The Situation Situational Analysis

'Inquiry is fatal to certainty.'

~ Will Durant

Situational Analysis

Situational analysis is the starting point for developing strategy. Before we can develop strategies for the future, however, we need to understand the present. Situational analysis is the process we use to gain understanding and insight into our present situation.

When conducting a situational analysis, we are engaged in two major activities: the marketing audit and SWOT analysis. (A SWOT analysis is a matrix-based tool used in marketing planning to identify strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats related to the company.)

As noted in figure 4.0 below, the results of the marketing audit become inputs into the SWOT analysis.

Hoover, 2016 Situational analysis also known as situational logic was popularized by Karl Popper as an appropriate method for the interpretation of history and as a basis for a scientific social science It seeks an objective positive explanation of behavior through imputing a dominant goal or motive to individuals and then identifying the action that would be objectively appropriate to the situation as the action actually taken Popper regarded situational analysis as a generalization to all of social science of the prototypical reasoning of economics Applied to history situational analysis is largely an interpretive strategy used to understand individual behavior In social sciences however it is applied many to types of behavior or to group behavior e g to markets as is used to generate testable hypothesis Popper s account of situational analysis and some criticisms that have been levied against it are reviewed The charge that situational analysis contradicts Popper s view that falsification is the hallmark of sciences is examined and rejected situational analysis is precisely how Popper believes social sciences are able to generate falsifiable and therefore scientific hypotheses Still situational analysis is in tension with another of Popper s central ideas situational analysis as a method for generating testable conjectures amounts to a logic of scientific discovery something that Popper argued elsewhere was not possible
