Methodological Approaches in Kurdish Studies Bahar Baser, Yasin Duman, Mari Toivanen, Begum Zorlu, 2018-11-06 This edited volume presents thirteen contributions that reflect upon the practical ethical theoretical and methodological challenges that researchers face when conducting fieldwork in settings that are characterized with deteriorating security situations increasing state control and conflicting inter ethnic relations More precisely they shed light to the intricacies of conducting fieldwork on highly politicized and sensitive topics in the region of Kurdistan in Iraq Syria and Turkey as well as among Kurdish diaspora members in Europe This volume is multidisciplinary in its focus and approach It includes contributions from scholars from various disciplinary backgrounds ranging from sociology and political science to social psychology and anthropology The complexity of security situations and the atmospheres of distrust and suspicion have led the contributors to be creative and to adapt their research methods in ways that at times transcend disciplinary boundaries and conventions Relatedly the contributions also open the often considered Pandora's box of discussing the failures in what is often a messy research field and how to adopt one's methods to rapidly changing political circumstances This necessitates greater reflexivity in existing power relations of the surrounding context and how those affect not only the interaction situations between the researcher and the participants but also raise questions for the overall research process concerning namely social justice representation and knowledge production The contributions unravel this by unpacking positionalities beyond ethnicities discussing how gendered and other positionalities are constructed in fieldwork interactions and by illustrating how the surrounding structures of power and dominance are present in every day fieldwork What differentiates this book from the existing literature is that it is the first academic endeavor that solely focuses on methodological reflections aimed to the field of Kurdish Studies It offers a comprehensive and multidisciplinary account of scholars fieldwork experiences in the Kurdish regions and as such it is also of value to scholars conducting or about to conduct fieldwork in conflict regions elsewhere

The Importance of Outsiders to Pauline Communities Emma Louise Parker, 2024-06-13 This book argues that despite Paul's often dramatic and critical descriptions of non Christians his letters reveal a deep concern for the presence of outsiders and for their opinion of Christians Parker suggests that outsiders are enormously important to Paul they determine whether Christian communities dwindle or thrive while also playing a key role in helping such communities to understand and shape their purpose as missional disciples develop their thinking and practice around normal daily events and relationships and even shape how they understand God Parker offers a careful exegesis of the main texts within the Pauline corpus revealing a sensitivity to the outsider including 1 Thessalonians Romans 1 Corinthians and the Pastoral Epistles By using Social Identity Theory she explores key concepts of group boundaries identity and inter group relations highlighting a theme which is significant in Paul's own thought the importance of similarity between groups Whilst not denying the counter cultural identity of the new Christian communities Parker concludes that Paul reveals the areas of overlap between insiders and outsiders since these areas not only create opportunities for positive opinions and relationships but also point to a greater understanding of God

Behavioural Economics and the Environment Alessandro Buccioli, Alessandro Tavoni, Marcella Veronesi, 2023-02-15 Humans have long neglected to fully consider the impact of their behaviour on the environment From excessive consumption of fossil fuels and natural resources to pollution waste disposal and in more recent years climate change most people and institutions lack a clear understanding of the environmental consequences of their actions The new field of behavioural environmental economics seeks to address this by applying the framework of behavioural economics to environmental issues thereby rationalizing unexplained puzzles and providing a more realistic account of individual behaviour This book provides a complete and rigorous overview of environmental topics that may be addressed and in many instances better understood by integrating a behavioural approach This volume features state of the art research on this topic by influential scholars in behavioural and environmental economics focussing on the effects of psychological social and cognitive factors on the decision making process It presents research performed using different methods and data collection mechanisms e.g. laboratory experiments field experiments natural experiments online surveys on a variety of environmental topics e.g. sustainability natural resources This book is a comprehensive and innovative tool for researchers and students interested in the behavioural economics of the environment and in the design of policy interventions aimed at reducing the human impact on the environment

History of the Native Woodlands of Scotland 1500-1920 T. C. Smout, 2007-09-15 The first modern history of Scottish woodlands this highly illustrated volume explores the changing relationship between trees and people from the time of Scotland's first settlement focusing on the period 1500 to 1920 Drawing on work in natural science geography and history as well as on the author's own research it presents an accessible and readable account that balances social economic and environmental factors Two opening chapters describe the early history of the woodlands The book is then divided into chapters that consider traditional uses and management the impact of outsiders on the pine woods and the oakwoods in the first phase of exploitation and the effect of industrialization Separate chapters are devoted to case studies of management at Strathcarron Glenorchy Rothiemurchus and on Skye

Outsiders in 19th-century Press History Frankie Hutton, Barbara Straus Reed, 1995 This anthology of journalism history brings together essays on the early Black press pioneer Jewish journalism Spanish language newspapers Native American newspapers woman suffrage peace advocacy and Chinese American and Mormon publications It shows how marginal groups developed their own journalism to counter the prejudices and misconceptions of the white establishment press The essays address the important questions of freedom of expression in religious matters as well as the domains of race and gender Perspectives on Marginality: Understanding Deviance James R. McIntosh,1974

Studies and Texts - Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies ,1982 The Awkward Class Teodor Shanin,1972 Historical study of the political sociology of peasantry the self employed rural worker class in Russia from 1910 to 1925 examines the major problems strains and alternatives facing Russia and the position of the peasantry in Russian society and covers rural area social structures the socio economic differentiation and the social mobility of the peasant family peasant movements etc Bibliography pp 228 to2238 references and statistical tables Cultural and Spiritual Values of Biodiversity United Nations Environment Programme,1999 Weaving together philosophical historical legal scientific and personal viewpoints this book gives a rich sample of the vast web which makes up our cultural spiritual and social diversity The volume highlights the central importance of cultural and spiritual values in the appreciation and preservation of all life and argues that these values give us a true reflection of worth It demonstrates how many cultures see Nature as an extension of society and how sensitive stewardship is an integral part of existence The book covers language and how cognition and speech encode indigenous knowledge systems are critical for preservation of diversity the complex issue of indigenous people and the problems of preserving their relationships both with and within their societies voices of the world expressions of concern and disquiet over the declining world diversity holistic health practices where environment and diet are integrated into indigenous medical health systems the importance of developing effective intellectual property rights and territorial and land rights to enhance and maintain local control This book arose out of the Global Biodiversity Assessment GBA a massive review of current knowledge in the broad field of biological diversity commissioned by United Nations Environmental Programme UNEP Olden Times in Zululand and Natal Alfred T. Bryant,1929 Proceedings Freemasons. New York (State) Royal Arch Masons. Grand Chapter,1909 Report of the Salaries Commission Appointed by the Governmet of Bengal to Revise the Salaries of Ministerial Officers, and to Reorganise the System of Business in Executive Offices, 1885-86 Bengal (India). Salaries Commission,1886 Bulletin ,1920 National Association of Corporation Training. Bulletin ,1920 Includes section Abstracts and reviews later The Management index The Burning Bush and Canada Roderick George MacBeth,1925 The Pharmaceutical Era ,1921 Studies and Texts Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies,1955 The Supreme Court in American Politics Howard Gillman,Cornell W. Clayton,1999 For decades political scientists studying the Court have adopted behavioral approaches and focused on the relatively narrow question of how the justices policy preferences influence their voting behavior This emphasis has illuminated important aspects of Supreme Court politics but it has also left unaddressed many other important questions about this unique and fascinating institution. Drawing on the new institutionalism in the social sciences, the distinguished contributors to this volume attempt to fill this gap by exploring a variety of topics including the Court's institutional development and its relationship to broader political contexts such as party regimes, electoral systems, social movements, social change, legal precedents, political identities, and historically evolving economic structures. The book's initial chapters examine the nature of the Court's distinctive norms as well as the development of its institutional powers and practice. A second section relates the development of Supreme Court politics to the historical development of other political institutions and social movements. Concluding chapters explore how its decision making in particular areas of law or periods of time is influenced by and influences its socio-political milieu. These contributions offer provocative insights regarding the Court's role in maintaining or disrupting political and economic structures as well as social structures and identities tied to ideology, class, race, gender, and sexual orientation. The Supreme Court in American Politics shows how we can develop an enriched understanding of this institution and open up exciting new areas of research by placing it in the broader context of politics in the United States.
