Child Of All Nations Tetralogi Buru 2 Pramoedya Ananta Toer:

Transnational Islamic Actors and Indonesia's Foreign Policy Delphine Alles, 2015-12-14 The past fifteen years have seen Indonesia move away from authoritarianism to a thriving yet imperfect democracy During this time the archipelago attracted international attention as the most populated Muslim majority country in the world As religious issues and actors have been increasingly taken into account in the analysis and conduct of international relations particularly since the 9 11 events Indonesia's leaders have adapted to this new context Taking a socio historical perspective this book examines the growing role of transnational Islamic Non State Actors NSAs in post authoritarian Indonesia and how it has affected the making of Indonesia's foreign policy since the country embarked on the democratization process in 1998 It returns to the origins of the relationship between Islamic organisations and the Indonesian institutions in order to explain the current interactions between transnational Islamic actors and the country's official foreign policies The book considers for the first time the interactions between the parallel diplomacy undertaken by Indonesia's Islamic NSAs and the country's official foreign policy narrative and actions It explains the adaptation of the state's responses and investigates the outcomes of those responses on the country's international identity Combining field collected data and a theoretical reflexion it offers a distanced analysis which deepens theoretical approaches on transnational religious actors Providing original research in Asian Studies while filling an empirical gap in international relations theory this book will be of interest to scholars of Indonesian Studies Islamic Studies International Relations and Asian Politics

Child of All Nations Pramoedya Ananta Toer, 1996-05-01 In Child of All Nations the reader is immediately swept up by a story that is profoundly feminist devastatingly anticolonialist and full of heartbreak suspense love and fury Pramoedya immerses the reader in a world that is astonishing in its vividness the cultural whirlpool that was the Dutch East Indies of the 1890s A story of awakening it follows Minke the main character of This Earth of Mankind as he struggles to overcome the injustice all around him Pramoedya's full literary genius is evident in the brilliant characters that populate this world Minke's fragile Mixed Race wife a young Chinese revolutionary an embattled Javanese peasant and his impoverished family the French painter Jean Marais to name just a few

The Passage of Literature Christopher GoGwilt, 2011-01-27 Through a set of comparative studies of the fiction of Joseph Conrad Jean Rhys and Pramoedya Ananta Toer The Passage of Literature explains the interrelation between English Creole and Indonesian formations of literary modernism arguing that each passage of literature is the site of contest between competing genealogies of culture Remembering Independence Carola Lentz,David Lowe,2018-04-19

Remembering Independence explores the commemoration and remembrance of independence following the great wave of decolonisation after the Second World War Drawing on case studies from Africa Asia and with reference to the Pacific the authors find that remembering independence was and still is highly dynamic From flag raising moments to the present day the transfer of authority from colonial rule to independent nation states has served as a powerful mnemonic focal point Remembering independence in state as well as non state constructions connects to changing contemporary purposes and competing politic visions Independence is a flexible idea both a moment in time and a project a carrier of hopes and ideals of social justice and freedom but also of disappointments and frustrated futures This richly illustrated volume draws attention to the broad range of media employed in remembering independence ranging from museums and monuments to textual oral and ritual formats of commemorative events such as national days Combining insights from history and anthropology this book will be essential reading for all students of the history of empire decolonisation nation building and post colonial politics of memory To Be Continued Hope Apple,Merle L. Pramoedya Ananta Toer's epic quartet called Buru Quartet first published by Hasta Mitra in 1980. Child of All Nations continues the story of the lives of the main character Minke and his mother-in-law Nyai Ontosoroh. By describing the lives of these two people who live in the Dutch-controlled islands of Java, Pramoedya is able to discuss many aspects of life in a colonized nation. Child of All Nations explores the social hierarchy in a colonized nation by giving glimpses of how the oppressed colonized peoples such as the Javanese farmers are required to be submissive to their occupiers, the Dutch. That wealthy, educated Javanese like Minke and Nyai were still considered inferior to the Dutch due to their native birth status and frequently simply the color of their skin. The main theme of the novel is, as the title suggests, that the world is becoming more integrated, as revealed in the life of the main character Minke, the self-proclaimed child of all nations. Minke speaks French, Dutch, Malay, and both high and low Javanese. He writes for All That Is Gone. Pramoedya Ananta Toer, 2005-01-25

Pramoedya Ananta Toer's transcendent novels have become part of the world literary canon, but it is his short fiction that originally made him famous. The first full-size collection of his short stories to appear in English, All That Is Gone, draws from the author's own experiences in Indonesia to depict characters trying to make sense of a war-torn culture haunted by colonialism. Among them, an eight-year-old girl soon to be married off by her parents for money and an idealistic young soldier who witnesses the savage beating of a man accused of being a spy. Though violence and brutality pervade these tales, there is present throughout a profound sense of compassion, an extraordinary combination of despair and hope that gives All That Is Gone rare power and beauty. House of Glass. Pramoedya Ananta Toer, 1997-07-01

With House of Glass comes the final chapter of Pramoedya's epic quartet set in the Dutch East Indies at the turn of the century. A novel of heroism, passion, and betrayal, it provides a spectacular conclusion to a series hailed as one of the great works of modern literature. At the start of House of Glass, Minke, writer and leader of the dissident movement, is now imprisoned, and the narrative has switched to Pangemanann, a former policeman who has the task of spying and reporting on those who continue the struggle for independence. But the hunter is becoming the hunted. Pangemanann is a victim of his own conscience and has come to admire his adversaries. He must decide whether the law is to safeguard the rights of the people or to control the people. He fears the loss of his position, his family, and his self-respect. At last, Pangemanann sees that his true opponents are not Minke and his followers but rather the dynamism and energy of a society awakened.
