This timely volume opens a window on issues related to English language education in Vietnam. Aiming to shed light on key issues recently observed in the Vietnamese landscape of English language education, it examines the complexity of the institutionalization of the standardized English proficiency policy which has been in force since 2008. That policy uses the Common European Framework of References for Languages (CEFR) as the model to set the standards and levels of proficiency for teachers, learners and state employees. The book presents both the theoretical and practical aspects of the standardization movement in English language education. The contents comprise a series of extended research-based chapters written by experts of language in education, policy and planning in and about Vietnam from a range of perspectives, including teachers, English language curriculum developers, teacher educators and researchers. The rich coverage of the book includes current discussion on English language education in Vietnam, ranging from policy to practice, making it highly relevant to English teachers, teacher educators and scholars in Vietnam and worldwide who aspire to broaden their horizons and professionalism.

Successful Teacher: Personality and Other Correlates Elena Mirela Samfira, Tiberiu Sandu Dughi, Jesus de la Fuente, 2023-11-08. The question of what makes a good teacher has been asked by practitioners, policymakers and researchers. Teachers are important drivers of student success in the immediate term, such as academic success. Nowadays, the education process is influenced by various factors which can all have a strong effect on the quality of teaching and learning. Having the intention to create high quality teaching and learning, it is very important to clearly determine what those factors are and what kind of effect they have on the education process. Different teacher characteristics and competencies have been distinguished in the literature as being relevant predictors of their instructional quality. Even though educational psychology has emphasized the significance of the personality role in the education process, the empirical evidence on the relationship between teacher characteristics and instructional quality is not yet conclusive Certainly there is much more to find out      International Handbook of English Language Teaching Jim Cummins,Chris Davison,2007-06-15 This two volume Handbook provides a comprehensive examination of policy practice research and theory related to English Language Teaching in international contexts More than 70 chapters highlight the research foundation for best practices frameworks for policy decisions and areas of consensus and controversy in second language acquisition and pedagogy The Handbook provides a unique resource for policy makers educational administrators and researchers concerned with meeting the increasing demand for effective English language teaching The spread of English as a global language is well documented In countries around the world English has replaced other languages as the second language taught most frequently and intensively in school These trends are escalating and have not yet reached their peak Increasing demand for English language teaching is also evident among adult learners Large scale ELT programs for adult learners have been established in the community and workplace as a result of the globalization of the workforce concerns to increase economic competitiveness and a move towards life long learning Increased focus on English language teaching has also occurred in countries where English is the dominant language Many English speaking countries have experienced dramatic increases in immigration during the past 30 years      RILA ,2010      English as a Lingua Franca: Attitude and Identity Jennifer Jenkins,2007-07-26 Based on research conducted among teachers this text examines the role of standard language ideology in ELF attitude formation critiques current SLA theories and ELT practices highlights links between ELF accent attitudes and ELF identities and includes proposals for making ELT pedagogy and testing more relevant      Choice ,2006      Library Journal Melvil Dewey,Richard Rogers Bowker,L.
