Lukasik,2011-07-11 In this path breaking study of the intersections between visual and literary culture Christopher J Lukasik explores how early Americans grappled with the relationship between appearance and social distinction in the decades between the American Revolution and the Civil War Through a wide range of evidence including canonical and obscure novels newspapers periodicals scientific and medical treatises and plays as well as conduct manuals portraits silhouettes and engravings Discerning Characters charts the transition from the eighteenth century s emphasis on performance and manners to the search for a more reliable form of corporeal legibility in the wake of the Revolution The emergence of physiognomy which sought to understand a person s character based on apparently unchanging facial features facilitated a larger shift in perception about the meanings of physical appearance and its relationship to social distinction The ensuing struggle between the face as a pliable medium of cultural performance and as rigid evidence of social standing Lukasik argues was at the center of the post Revolutionary novel which imagined physiognomic distinction as providing stability during a time of cultural division and political turmoil As Lukasik shows this tension between a model of character grounded in the fluid performances of the self and one grounded in the permanent features of the face would continue to shape not only the representation of social distinction within the novel but more broadly the practices of literary production and reception in nineteenth century America across a wide range of media The result is a new interdisciplinary interpretation of the rise of the novel in America that reconsiders the political and social aims of the genre during the fifty years following the Revolution In so doing Discerning Characters powerfully rethinks how we have read and continue to read both novels and each other Physiognomy Leila Holt Lomax,1906 The Phrenological Journal and Life Illustrated ,1874 The physiology of love, a study in stirpiculture Henry Seymour (anarchist.),1898 Brain and Mind, Or, Mental Science Considered in Accordance with the Principles of Phrenology, and in Relation to Modern Physiology Henry Shipton Drayton,James McNeill,1892 To-day ,1895 American Phrenological Journal and Life Illustrated ,1903 The Encyclopaedia of Face and Form Reading Mary Olmstead Stanton,1920 Transactions of the ...
