Beyond Descriptive Translation Studies Investigations In Homage To Gideon Toury Benjamins Translation Library:

Beyond Descriptive Translation Studies Anthony Pym, Miriam Shlesinger, Daniel Simeoni, 2008-03-13 To go beyond the work of a leading intellectual is rarely an unambiguous tribute However when Gideon Toury founded Descriptive Translation Studies as a research based discipline he laid down precisely that intellectual challenge not just to describe translation but to explain it through reference to wider relations That call offers at once a common base an open and multidirectional ambition and many good reasons for unambiguous tribute The authors brought together in this volume include key players in Translation Studies who have responded to Toury's challenge in one way or another Their diverse contributions address issues such as the sociology of translators contemporary changes in intercultural relations the fundamental problem of defining translations the nature of explanation and case studies including pseudotranslation in Renaissance Italy Sherlock Holmes in Turkey and the coffee and sugar economy in Brazil All acknowledge Translation Studies as a research based space for conceptual coherence and creativity all seek to explain as well as describe In this sense we believe that Toury's call has been answered beyond expectations

Style and Context of Old Greek Job Marieke Dhont, 2018-04-17 In Style and Context of Old Greek Job Marieke Dhont offers a new understanding of the linguistic and stylistic diversity in the Septuagint corpus To this end the author innovatively uses Polysystem Theory which has been developed in the field of modern literary studies After discussing the appropriateness of a systemic approach to understanding Jewish Greek literature the author reflects on the Jewishness of Greek language texts Dhont then presents a thorough literary analysis of the Old Greek version of the book of Job On this basis she explains the dynamics that produced the translation of Old Greek Job and its position within the development of a Jewish Greek literary tradition

Computational Linguistics and Intelligent Text Processing Alexander Gelbukh, 2018-03-20 The two volume set LNCS 9623 9624 constitutes revised selected papers from the CICLing 2016 conference which took place in Konya Turkey in April 2016 The total of 89 papers presented in the two volumes was carefully reviewed and selected from 298 submissions The book also contains 4 invited papers and a memorial paper on Adam Kilgarriff's Legacy to Computational Linguistics The papers are organized in the following topical sections Part I In memoriam of Adam Kilgarriff general formalisms embeddings language modeling and sequence labeling lexical resources and terminology extraction morphology and part of speech tagging syntax and chunking named entity recognition word sense disambiguation and anaphora resolution semantics discourse and dialog Part II machine translation and multilingualism sentiment analysis opinion mining subjectivity and social media text classification and categorization information extraction and applications

Construction, Coherence and Connotations Pierre J. Jordaan, Nicholas P. L. Allen, 2016-08-22 These fourteen selected essays were originally read at the LXXSA international conference Construction Coherence and Connotation in Septuagint Apocryphal and Cognate Literature 28 30

August 2015 hosted by the North West University Potchefstroom South Africa Here the intention was to apply new critical theory and approaches to the fields of Old Testament Scripture as well as associated Apocryphal and Cognate literature with a specific focus on the interrelated recurring theme of the Wisdom of the deity and its decryption and reception at various times in history In this regard it was felt that this theme and associated source texts had been largely overlooked in recent scholarship Here the aim was to attract recent research by both leading national as well as international scholars which not only shed new light on Old Testament Apocrypha and so called Pseudepigraphical literature but which also critically reviewed certain biblical wisdom texts which are foundational for both the Christian as well as Jewish communities As a consequence many of the essays deal with the apocryphal Wisdom of Sirach However important contributions may also be found apropos Micah Daniel Baruch 2 Maccabees Tobit Susanna Judith and the works of Josephus Flavius Characterizing Old Greek Deuteronomy as an Ancient Translation Jean Muraiss,2022-06-27 Much can be learned about a translation s linguistic and cultural context by studying it as a text a literary artifact of the culture that produced it However its nature as a translation warrants a careful approach one that pays attention to the process by which its various features came about In Characterizing Old Greek Deuteronomy as an Ancient Translation Jean Muraiss develops a framework derived from Descriptive Translation Studies to bring both these aspects in conversation He then outlines how the Deuteronomy translator went about his task and provides a characterization of the work as a literary product Traduction Harald Kittel,Juliane House,Brigitte Schultze,2004 This series of HANDBOOKS OF LINGUISTICS AND COMMUNICATION SCIENCE is designed to illuminate a field which not only includes general linguistics and the study of linguistics as applied to specific languages but also covers those more recent areas which have developed from the increasing body of research into the manifold forms of communicative action and interaction For classic linguistics there appears to be a need for a review of the state of the art which will provide a reference base for the rapid advances in research undertaken from a variety of theoretical standpoints while in the more recent branches of communication science the handbooks will give researchers both an overview and orientation Translating in the Local Community Peter Flynn,2023-04-25 This volume showcases different forms of natural and non professional translation and interpreting at work at multilingual sites in a single city shedding new light on our understanding of the intersection of city migration and translation Flynn builds on work in translation studies sociolinguistics linguistic ethnography and anthropology to offer a translational perspective on scholarship on multilingualism and translation focusing on examples from the superdiverse city of Ghent in Belgium Each chapter comprises a different multilingual site ranging from schools to eateries to public transport and unpacks specific dimensions of translation practices within and against constantly shifting multilingual settings The book also reflects on socio political factors and methodological considerations of concern when undertaking such an approach Taken together the chapters seek to provide a composite picture of translation in a multilingual city demonstrating how tracing physical linguistic and social trajectories of movement in these contexts can deepen our understanding of the contemporary dynamics of multilingualism and natural translation and of translanguaging more broadly This book will be of interest to students and scholars in translation and interpreting studies sociolinguistics multilingualism linguistic anthropology and migration studies

Descriptive Translation Studies and Beyond Gideon Toury, 1995 A replacement of the author's well known book on Translation Theory In Search of a Theory of Translation 1980 this book makes a case for Descriptive Translation Studies as a scholarly activity as well as a branch of the discipline having immediate consequences for issues of both a theoretical and applied nature Methodological discussions are complemented by an assortment of case studies of various scopes and levels with emphasis on the need to contextualize whatever one sets out to focus on Part One deals with the position of descriptive studies within TS and justifies the author's choice to devote a whole book to the subject Part Two gives a detailed rationale for descriptive studies in translation and serves as a framework for the case studies comprising Part Three Concrete descriptive issues are here tackled within ever growing contexts of a higher level texts and modes of translational behaviour in the appropriate cultural setup textual components in texts and through these texts in cultural constellations Part Four asks the question What is knowledge accumulated through descriptive studies performed within one and the same framework likely to yield in terms of theory and practice This is an excellent book for higher level translation courses The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009 Bibliographie internationale annuelle des mélanges, 2009 La traduction dans les cultures plurilingues Karen Vandemeulebroucke, Lieven d'. Hulst, Reine Meylaerts, 2011

Decentering Translation Studies Judy Wakabayashi, Rita Kothari, 2009-11-12 This book foregrounds practices and discourses of translation in several non Western traditions Translation Studies currently reflects the historiography and concerns of Anglo American and European scholars overlooking the full richness of translational activities and diverse discourses The essays in this book which generally have a historical slant help push back the geographical and conceptual boundaries of the discipline They illustrate how distinctive historical social and philosophical contexts have shaped the ways in which translational acts are defined performed viewed encouraged or suppressed in different linguistic communities The volume has a particular focus on the multiple contexts of translation in India but also encompasses translation in Korea Japan and South Africa as well as representations of Sufism in different contexts In Translation Paul St-Pierre, Prafulla C. Kar, 2007-01-01 With contributions by researchers from India Europe North America and the Caribbean In Translation Reflections refractions transformations touches on questions of method and on topics including copyright cultural hybridity globalization identity construction and minority languages which are important for the disciplinary development of translation studies but also of interest to other fields as well most notably comparative literature cultural studies and world literature The volume provides a forum for new voices to be heard alongside those of well established scholars and for current concerns to express themselves often focusing on practices in areas of the world other than Europe or North America which have until now tended to dominate the field Acknowledging difference and celebrating it the contributions conceive of translation as a process which reconstitutes and transforms which brings renewal and growth an interaction in a new context a new reading a new writing The Known Unknowns of Translation Studies Elke Brems,Reine Meylaerts,Luc van Doorslaer,2014-12-15 After several paradigm changes and even more turns after fights about scholarly territories and methodological renewal after intra and interdisciplinary discussions Translation Studies continues to produce a large number of publications dealing with the challenge of defining itself and its object with the borderlines of both the discipline and the object with ways of interacting with related sub disciplines This publication gathers contributions from established TS scholars all former CETRA Chair professors about the topics that will very probably dominate the near future of the discipline This is an extended and updated version of a Target special issue with the same title that was published in 2012 24 1

Crosscultural Transgressions Theo Hermans,2014-07-10 Crosscultural Transgressions offers explorations and critical assessments of research methods and models in translation studies and points up new questions and directions Ranging from epistemological questions of description and historiography to the politics of language including the language of translation research the book tackles issues of research design and methodology and goes on to examine the kind of disciplinary knowledge produced in translation studies who produces it and whose interests the dominant paradigms serve The focus is on historical and ideological problems but the crisis of representation that has affected all the human sciences in recent decades has left its mark As the essays in this collection explore the transgressive nature of crosscultural representation whether in translations or in the study of translation they remain attentive to institutional contexts and develop a self reflexive stance They also chart new territory taking their cue from ethnography semiotics sociology and cultural studies and tackling Meso American iconic scripts Bourdieu s constructivism translation between philosophical paradigms and the complexities of translation concepts in multicultural societies The Known Unknowns of Translation Studies Elke

Brems,Reine Meylaerts,Luc Van Doorslaer,2012 Questions for Translation Studies Douglas Robinson,2023-08-15 This is a book in the classical Quaestiones genre like the Tusculanae Quaestiones Tusculan questions of Cicero around 45 BCE and the Quaestiones disputatae de Veritate disputed questions on truth of St Thomas Aquinas 1256 1259 It seeks to ask seven series of questions about key theoretical approaches to the study of translation three on equivalence theories semantic equivalence dynamic equivalence and deverbalization three on Descriptive Translation Studies norms Toury s laws and the translator s narrativity and one on the translator s visibility Each Question chapter charts a circuitous course through past answers to new questions and new answers drawing especially on the theoretical traditions of hermeneutics phenomenology and 4EA cognitive science The book will guide both veteran and novice scholars of translation deep into the complexities besetting the seven keywords Indirect Translation Alexandra Assis Rosa,Hanna Pięta,Rita Bueno Maia,2020-06-05 In an effort to counter the marginalization of indirect translation in systematic research this book establishes innovative theoretical and methodological grounds and mitigates terminological instability in the field. In so doing it unsettles the binary paradigms still predominant in translation research such as original versus translation and source versus target culture language text. The contributors focus on the indirect translation of literature and cover a variety of European and Asian cultures and languages such as Assamese, Bengali, Catalan, Chinese, Hindi, Japanese, Kannada, Malayalam, Marathi, Oriya, Russian, Spanish, Swedish, Tamil, and Urdu. This book will be of interest to all researchers studying intercultural relations, the probabilistic genealogies of texts, the circulation of texts and ideas among dominant and dominated cultures and groups, and the implications of English as a main pivot language in today's world. This book was originally published as a special issue of Translation Studies, Method in Translation History Anthony Pym, 2014-04-08. Starting from the critical notion that we should be asking questions of contemporary importance and that importance itself must be defined, Anthony Pym sets about undoing many of the currently dominant models of translation history, positing among much else that the object of this history should be translators as people that researchers are subjectively involved in, their object that cultural systems are based on social will that translators work in intercultural spaces, and that a model of cooperation through negotiation may be applied to the way translators and researchers work between cultures. At the same time, the proposed methodology is eminently constructive, showing how many empirical techniques can be developed and applied; clear illustrations are given of corpus selection, working definitions, deceptive statistics, and the construction of networks and regimes incorporating elaborate examples drawn from medieval and modernist fields, as well as finding space for notes on practical problems like funding research. Finding its focus in historical debates, this book cannot help but create contemporary debate; its arguments seek not only to revitalize the historical study of translation but also to develop the wider concerns of intercultural studies.
