Corporate Entrepreneurship And Innovation Edition:

Corporate Entrepreneurship and Innovation Paul Burns, 2020-02-28 Written by a highly regarded expert on entrepreneurship this bestselling textbook provides an engaging and comprehensive overview of corporate entrepreneurship. Now in its fourth edition and fully revised throughout this accessible text is structured in four key parts that cover everything a student needs to know about the topic. After an initial consideration of what constitutes corporate entrepreneurship and innovation the author then guides students through the four pillars of entrepreneurial architecture: culture, structure, leadership, and strategy. The third section focusses on the entrepreneurial mind set including how to encourage creativity, business ideas, and developing concepts. Finally the book draws attention to corporate venturing, examining venture teams, intrapreneurs, market development, and the role of shareholder value. It is no longer sufficient for businesses to grow simply by cutting costs and taking over competitors. To achieve true success organisations must avoid an ageing product or service portfolio, to bring new innovative ideas to market. Corporate entrepreneurship is inherently risky and therefore requires a fresh approach to strategy. The approach Paul Burns offers will successfully overcome barriers to launching new ideas, internal challenges of managing creativity, and show how to foster an entrepreneurial culture. This is the go to textbook for all students studying Corporate Entrepreneurship, Intrapreneurship or Corporate Venturing at undergraduate, postgraduate or MBA level. The book is also essential reading for courses on Strategic Entrepreneurship and Innovation. New to this Edition: Fully revised and updated content throughout with new four part structure. Brand new case studies in every chapter featuring some of the world's highest profile companies from across the globe. A greater focus on innovation including a new chapter on this topic at the start of the book. New chapters on Developing a Business Model, Managing Change, and Managing Risk. New on page glossary with key terms highlighted in the text and defined in the margins. New Activities and Group Discussion topics at the end of each chapter.

effectively creating and implementing a sustainable culture of innovation and entrepreneurship within organizations The book is based on the insight that established organizations see continuous delivery of innovative products services and processes when they enable teams of entrepreneurial employees to think and behave like start ups Three qualities make this book unique First it explores the theory and practice of intrapreneurship and innovation with a particular but not exclusive focus on key issues in African contexts Second it includes a large diverse set of instructive examples and case studies of intrapreneurship and innovation in organizations in Africa And third it features a useful toolkit the Intrapreneurship Empowerment Model a simple yet complete implementation framework The book includes key resources of practical real world tools and assets used by some of the world s most intrapreneurial and innovative organizations The Intrapreneur s Journey adds value for both practitioners and scholars of intrapreneurship and innovation in Africa and other parts of the world Corporate Entrepreneurship and Innovation Part 1 Elspeth McFadzean, Andrew O'Loughlin, Elizabeth Shaw, 2009

Purpose To examine the literature on corporate entrepreneurship and innovation and to develop a combined definition of these two terms Moreover the literature is used to construct a holistic model that seeks to explain the links between corporate entrepreneurial activity and the innovation process Design methodology approach A number of published works on entrepreneurship and innovation are critiqued The findings from this literature review are used to develop a framework illustrating the relationships between the corporate entrepreneur and the innovation process Findings The paper presents a combined definition of corporate entrepreneurship and innovation and from the literature review concludes that previous models on entrepreneurship and innovation are fragmented because there is little exploration on the relationships and dynamics between these two factors A framework of corporate entrepreneurship and innovation is constructed by synthesising the information gathered from previous literature This model shows that there are missing links between the entrepreneur and the innovation process The paper discusses three factors that may explain both the dynamics and the relationships between the entrepreneur and the innovation process These are entrepreneurial attitudes vision and actions Originality value This paper fulfils an identified gap in the literature namely the lack of investigation into the links between the corporate entrepreneur and the innovation process and suggests three factors that could be used to explain this gap Part 2 of this paper will present a new holistic model of corporate entrepreneurship and innovation that illustrates the relationships between these two areas in more detail Publication abstract Inside Corporate Innovation Robert A. Burgelman, Leonard R. Sayles, 1988-08 The new wave of organizational innovations involves new types of arrangements between individuals and corporations It is likely to continue to produce new organizational forms spanning the entire range of combinations of markets and hierarchies and involving complex sometimes protracted negotiation processes between individuals and corporate entities Such negotiation processes we believe will be an increasingly pervasive aspect of corporate life and an important mechanism for facilitating the new integration of individualism and big business through corporate current research on validating the growth of indigenous thinking and ideas The Challenges of Corporate Entrepreneurship in the Disruptive Age Donald F. Kuratko, Sherry Hoskinson, 2018-11-22 Today's age of disruptive technology is a strategic game changer for most organizations. Unpredictable market conditions create unprecedented challenges for simple organizational survival, let alone avenues for innovation and growth. This volume explores this dynamic environment in which corporate entrepreneurship strategies are pursued Silicon Valley Start-ups and Corporate Innovation Bernhard Gold, 2017-10-16 Bernhard Gold answers the question of how larger firms can learn from the successes of Silicon Valley start-ups by means of corporate venturing and by developing the Spin Along Approach, a method that combines the innovativeness of start-up companies with the capabilities of large corporations to obtain the best of both worlds. Moreover, the author provides an in-depth analysis of the Silicon Valley ecosystem and presents new corporate innovation methods for the digital age with the aim of providing a final resolution to the Innovator's Dilemma.

Entrepreneurship, Innovation and Sustainability Marcus Wagner, 2017-09-08 This book addresses the intersection of entrepreneurship, innovation, and sustainability (EIS), presenting high-quality research illuminating the relationship between the three fields. The EIS nexus is particularly relevant from a European point of view given the focus of the European Commission on corporate social responsibility (CSR) and sustainability, as well as their prominent role within the European Union in general. Also, the rapid economic growth witnessed especially in the BRIC countries in recent years requires that firms reconcile sustainability aspects with profitability and innovation, and entrepreneurs are seen as key diffusers of these aims. Sustainability requires both radical and incremental innovation at many different levels: technology, product, process, system. In many cases, such innovations come from small and medium-sized enterprises, and so the role of the entrepreneur is key to their success. The book is split into six sections. The first section examines the nexus in detail, focusing on system-oriented connectivity between sustainability, innovation, and entrepreneurship. The second section looks at how to nurture corporate entrepreneurship for sustainability, and the third considers mature industries such as automotive, chemicals, and electronics and how sustainability aspects can be integrated into innovation process and strategy. The fourth section examines the nexus through the lens of developing countries in Africa. Sustainable entrepreneurship is identified as a hugely beneficial way to foster development. The fifth section of the book concentrates on SMEs, and finally, the EIS nexus is approached from a network perspective and focuses on inter-organisational partnerships, which are often an important facilitator or spark for EIS initiatives. This book will prove to be essential for researchers in the EIS nexus and be of invaluable help to practitioners, governments, and inter-governmental bodies attempting to encourage sustainable entrepreneurship and innovation.
