Transcript Charles B. Osburn, 2009 Many glimpses into what might be called library philosophy are scattered throughout the literatures of library history and library and information science but none has coalesced as yet Conversely theories relative to the operation of libraries rather than relative to why their operations are necessary in the first place are exceedingly abundant At the heart of both resides function On the one hand the concept of a library reflects a rational social process its genesis and survival the result of each succeeding generation embracing the same core values as the one before At the same time practice in the library is bounded by both the experiences and expectations of the public and our choice and treatment of topic in our scholarly and professional literature Not surprisingly fundamental misunderstandings are shared among public scholar and librarian about what the library is and why it exists Adapting the work of Kenneth Boulding Charles Osburn presents a cogent well substantiated explanation of why the library refuses to cede its position as a cultural icon and how it not only continues but flourishes throughout the trials and errors of civilization Back cover

Reading

Media Theory David Maxwell Barlow, Brett Mills, 2009 This unique part reader part textbook brings core primary media theory readings to the student whilst assisting them with reading understanding decoding and deconstructing the material The dual functionality of the book helps students to familiarise themselves with core texts and develop the necessary critical reading skills and confidence required to engage with the subject The text is annotated throughout and explores context content structure and writing style in order to bring theory to life for the reader The book is split into four sections namely Reading theory Key thinkers and schools Approaches and Media Theory in context This structure is adopted in order to encourage students to familiarise themselves with the material and the progressive pedagogical apparatus guides them to approach it gradually whilst developing their skill set The provision of questions to provoke further thought helps to encourage the student to read more widely around the subject and engage with core concepts of both theory and learning Ultimately the text acts as a how to read handbook for media theory and is structured so that students can learn the literature as well as learning how to approach it Emerging Research + Design Kate Wingert-Playdon, Herman Neuckermans, 2007 Neoliberalism and Globalization in Africa Joseph Mensah, 2008-11-15 Discusses Africa's involvement in contemporary neoliberal globalization from a social economic political and cultural perspective This book describes the unbalanced structure of global wealth and power between Africa and the rest of the world The Discursive Construction of Subject Positioning, Power, and Language Ideologies Among Adult Immigrant Learners of English Miller Elizabeth Rose, 2006 The Philosophical Review Jacob Gould Schurman, James Edwin Creighton, Frank Thilly, Gustavus Watts Cunningham, 2003 Subject Guide to Books in Print , 1997
