Design Studio Vol. 3: Designs on History Jonathan Hill, 2021-12-24 Each architectural design is a new history To identify what is novel or innovative we need to consider the present past and future We expect historical narratives to be written in words but they can also be delineated in drawing cast in concrete or seeded in soil The aim of this volume is to understand each design as a visible and physical history Historical understanding is investigated as a stimulus to the creative process highlighting how architects learn from each other and other disciplines This encourages us to consider the stories about history that architects fabricate An eminent set of international contributors reflect on the relevance of historical insight for contemporary design drawing on the rich visual output of innovative studios worldwide in practice and education Wide ranging and thought provoking articles encompass fact fiction memory time etymology civilisation racial segregation and more Features Elizabeth Dow Pezo von Ellrichshausen Terunobu Fujimori Perry Kulper Lesley Lokko Yeoryia Manolopoulou Niall McLaughlin Aisling O Carroll Arinjoy Sen Amin Taha and Sumayya Vally

The Wrong Trousers Bill Bowler, Nick Park, 2010 It's Gromit the dog's birthday and his friend Wallace gives him an unusual present a pair of Techno trousers At first Wallace uses the trousers to take Gromit for walks but when the penguin comes to stay he uses them one night for something different very different

Procedural Justice in the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change Luke Tomlinson, 2015-04-28 This book considers what is needed for fairness in the decisions of the UNFCCC It analyses several principles of procedural fairness in order to develop practical policy measures for fair decision making in the UNFCCC This includes measures that determine who should have a right to participate in its decisions how these decisions should take place and what level of equality should exist between these actors In doing so it proposes that procedural fairness is a fundamental feature of a multilateral response to address climate change By showing that procedural fairness is most likely to be achieved through the inclusive process of the UNFCCC it also shows that global efforts to address climate change should continue in this forum

The International Responsibility of the European Union Malcolm Evans, Panos Koutrakos, 2013-03-12 How is the international responsibility of the European Union determined In the context of the multilayered and ever evolving Union legal order the Lisbon Treaty has introduced considerable changes to the Union's participation in international affairs These have rendered this thorny question an even more pressing concern not only for the European Union and its Member States but also for third countries and international organisations Based on papers delivered at the bi annual EU International Law Forum organised by the University of Bristol in May 2011 this volume brings together EU and international law experts to address the various questions raised by the Union's international responsibility It discusses horizontal issues such as the concept of responsibility of international organisations in the evolving international legal order and the different techniques available for determining responsibility It also focuses on specific policy areas trade investment environment security and defence human rights by approaching them from both an EU and international law perspective     The Politics of Climate Change Anthony Giddens,2011-10-17 Since it first appeared this book has achieved a classic status It remains the only work that looks in detail at the political issues posed by global warming This new edition has been thoroughly updated and provides a state of the art discussion of the most testing issue humanity faces this century     Political Responsibility for Climate Change Theresa Scavenius,2019-08-08 This book offers new perspectives on how social and political institutions can respond more effectively to climate change Theresa Scavenius presents a concept of moral responsibility that does not address the obligations of individual citizens but instead assesses the moral responsibility of institutionalised actors such as governments parliaments and other governmental agencies This focus on political responsibility is something that up until now has largely been neglected by moral theory but Scavenius argues in this book that accountability must be assigned to institutionalised group agents With this new research she outlines building blocks for a new agenda of climate studies by offering an innovative approach to climate governance and democratic climate action at a time when many political initiatives have failed and crucially outlines the necessity of approaching moral dilemmas from a fact sensitive political theoretical approach Written in a clear and engaging style this volume will be an invaluable reference for researchers interested in moral philosophy climate change environmental politics and policy and institutional theory
