The Yacoubian Building Alaa Al Aswany:

The Yacoubian building , the yacoubian building 'Alā' Aswānī, 2004 The Yacoubian Building holds all that Egypt was and has become over the 75 years since its namesake was built on one of downtown Cairo's main boulevards From the pious son of the building's doorkeeper and the raucous impoverished squatters on its roof via the tattered aristocrat and the gay intellectual in its apartments to the ruthless businessman whose stores occupy its ground floor each sharply etched character embodies a facet of modern Egypt where political corruption ill gotten wealth and religious hypocrisy are natural allies where the arrogance and defensiveness of the powerful find expression in the exploitation of the weak where youthful idealism can turn quickly to extremism and where an older less violent vision of society may yet prevail Alaa Al Aswany's novel caused an unprecedented stir when it was first published in 2002 and has remained the world's best selling novel in the Arabic language since

Chicago 'Alā' Aswānī, 2007 Post September 11 Chicago becomes the site of a cultural collision of Egyptian and American lives including a Ph D candidate whose traditional upbringing is challenged by her American experiences and a migrant whose western values are countered by questions about his daughter's honor Friendly Fire Alaa Al Aswany, 2024-04-16 Friendly Fire the first collection of short stories from Alaa Al Aswany acclaimed author of Chicago and The Yacoubian Building deftly explores the lives of contemporary Egyptians Here are stories of generational conflict corruption repression infidelity and the dangerous clashing of western and Arab ideals all beautifully rendered by Al Aswany a true modern master and one of Egypt's most exciting literary exports Minneapolis Star Tribune

Alaa Alaswany, 2006, The Automobile Club of Egypt Alaa Al Aswany, 2015-08-18 In British occupied Egypt on the eve of the 1952 revolution respected landowner Abd el Aziz Gaafar has fallen on hard times Bankrupt he moves his family to Cairo and takes a menial job at the Automobile Club a luxurious lodge for its European members where Egyptians appear only as fearful servants When Abd el Aziz's pride gets the better of him and he stands up for himself he is subjected to a corporal punishment that ultimately kills him leaving two of his sons obliged to work in the Club As the nation teeters on the brink of change both servants and masters are subsumed by social upheaval and the Egyptians of the Automobile Club face a choice to live safely but without dignity as servants or to risk everything and fight for their rights Exuberant and powerfully moving The Automobile Club of Egypt is an essential work of social criticism from one of the Arab world's greatest literary voices

Friendly Fire 'Alā' al- Aswānī, 'Alā' Aswānī, Humphrey Davies, 2009 A novella and collection of short stories from Alaa Al Aswany author of the bestselling The Yacoubian Building As in that novel Al Aswany dissects modern Egyptian society and reveals with skill and detachment the hypocrisy violence and abuse of power characteristic of a world in moral crisis Here though the focus has shifted from the broad historical canvas to the minute stitches of pain that hold together an individual a family a school classroom or the relationship between a man and a woman Can a man so alienated from his society that he regards all its members as no better than microbes wriggling under a microscope survive within it Can cynical religiosity triumph over human decency Can a man put the thought of a delicious dish of beans behind him long enough to mourn his father's death Readers will find again the vivid passionate characters of today's Cairo clamouring to be heard

Narrating Postcolonial Arab Nations Lindsey Moore, 2017-10-30 Narrating Postcolonial Arab Nations significantly enhances the interface between postcolonial literary studies and the hitherto under studied Arab world Lindsey Moore brings together canonical and less familiar Arab novels and memoirs from the last half century to consider colonial continuities and consequences Literary narratives are shown to oppose repressive versions of nationalism and to track desire lines toward more hospitable nations The literatures discussed in this book enable a deeper historical understanding of twenty first century Arab uprisings and their aftermaths The book analyzes four rich sites of literary production Egypt Algeria Lebanon and Palestine Moore explores ways in which authors critique particular nation state formations and decolonizing histories engage the general problematic of the nation and redefine repurpose and transcend national literary canons Chapter One contrasts Egyptian literary representations of popular revolt with official revolutionary discourse Chapter Two addresses the enduring legacy of anti colonial violence in Algeria and the place of Albert Camus in its literature Chapter Three uses narratives of gender violence on the Beirut front line to reveal the divisibility and intersectional identity politics of postcolonial nation states Chapter Four emphasizes ways in which Palestinian memoirs insist upon remembering towards a postcolonial future The book provides detailed analysis of literary narratives by Etel Adnan Rabi al Amr al Alami Alaa al Aswany Rachid Boudjedra Albert Camus Rashid al Daif Assia Djebar Ghada Karmi Naguib Mahfouz Jean Said Makdisi Edward Said Boualem Sansal Raja Shehadeh Miral al Tahawy and Latifa al Zayyat It is an indispensable volume for students and scholars of Postcolonial Arab and World literatures

Postcolonial Audiences Bethan Benwell, James Procter, Gemma Robinson, 2012-03-12 Without readers and audiences viewers and consumers the postcolonial would be literally unthinkable And yet postcolonial critics have historically neglected the modes of reception and consumption that make up the politics and pleasures of meaning making during and after empire Thus while recent criticism and theory has made large claims for reading as an ethical act as a means of establishing collective quasi political consciousness as identification with difference as a mode of resistance and as an impulsion to the public imagination the reader in postcolonial literary studies persists as a shadowy figure This collection answers the now pressing need for a distinctively postcolonial take on the rapidly expanding area of reader and reception studies Written by some of the top scholars in the field these essays reveal readers and reception to be varied and profoundly unstable subjects that challenge many of our assumptions and preconceptions of the postcolonial from the notion of reading as national fellowship to the demands of an ethics of reading Samia

Mehrez, 2010-01-01 A look at some of the raging debates in the arts in Egypt The Work of Literature Derek Attridge, 2015 The Work of Literature presents a fresh approach to the question of the value of literature posing and responding to questions about the way we read and write about literature its value to individuals and society how it is best approached by readers and critics and how it retains its power to give pleasure over decades and centuries The Republic of False Truths Alaa Al Aswany, 2011-08-10 A glorious humane novel The Observer about the Egyptian revolution taking us inside the battle raging between those in power and those prepared to lay down their lives in the defense of freedom this globally acclaimed narrative from one of the foremost writers in the Arab world is still banned across much of the region Cairo 2011 After decades under a repressive regime tensions are rising in the city streets No one is out of reach of the revolution There is General Alwany a high ranking member of the government's security agency a pious man who loves his family yet won't hesitate to torture enemies of the state Asma a young teacher who chafes against the brazen corruption at her school Ashraf an out of work actor who is having an affair with his maid and who gets pulled into Tahrir Square through a chance encounter Nourhan a television personality who loyally defends those in power and many more As these lives collide a new generation finds a voice love blossoms across class divides and the revolution gains strength Even the general finds himself at a crossroads as his own daughter joins the protests Yet the old regime will not give up without a fight With an unforgettably vivid cast of characters and a heart pounding narrative banned across much of the region Alaa Al Aswany gives us a deeply human portrait of the Egyptian Revolution and an impassioned retelling of his country's turbulent recent history
