Concept Note Mobilizing The African Diaspora For Development:

African Politics Toyin Falola, 2025-11-25 African Politics An Introduction is an engaging broad ranging guide to the politics of African states reflecting on contemporary patterns and trends whilst also situating them in their historical context Viewed from the outside African politics are often said to be too complex and multifarious to understand properly leading to widespread misunderstandings and stereotypes This book challenges these assumptions providing an accessible reader friendly guide Starting with an introduction to the historical roots of African politics right back to the precolonial era this book goes on to discuss colonialism and the independence movement before diving into the postcolonial state and the challenges of governance development and conflict which many states have struggled with This book looks in detail at the various actors involved from religious groups to political parties youth politics women social movements and different social classes At the end of each chapter a classwork box provides students with a particular example of an African state or event to investigate in more detail encouraging them to consider the specific and to resist generalizations African Politics An Introduction is perfect for an undergraduate student starting out in their studies of African politics but it would also be a welcome read for any reader who wants to learn a bit more about the governance of Africa Emigration Nations M. Collyer, 2013-10-16 Some states have a long history of reaching out to citizens living in other countries but since 2000 it has become much more common for states to encourage loyalty from current or former citizens living abroad Using detailed case studies this book sets out to explain this significant development with an innovative new theoretical framework

Transnational Africa and Globalization M. Okome, 2012-01-14 The dawn of neoliberal rationality in Africa in the 1980s coincided with a massive exodus of skilled Africans to the global North Moving beyond the push and pull framework that has dominated studies of this phenomenon this collection instead looks at African transnational migrations against the backdrop of rapid and intensifying globalization Sorting Africa's Developmental Puzzle Almaz Zewde, 2010-06-02 Sorting Africa's Developmental Puzzle The Participatory Social Learning Theory as an Alternative Approach is a comprehensive exploration of why Africa has not managed to achieve a sustainable and self regenerating development over the past half century of effort The work situates the problems of Africa's persistent underdevelopment in the practices employed by national political elites donors and lenders to African development that played roles in determinant policy and planning Unlike many newly developed countries and regions and contrary to the historical experiences of developed countries where ordinary people were full stakeholders and drivers of development Africa's development has been top down expert and capital driven mechanical and typically externally designed Ordinary Africans were made marginal to development This approach to Africa's development was devoid of building the people and their institutions as the legitimate means of development The entrusting of Africa's development to local and international elites to the exclusion of the people from decision making and full participation has led to grievous deficits in the formation of human and social capital and legitimate economic social and political institutions for development The book offers a studied alternative that can positively change Africa's development direction The Participatory Social Learning Approach The philosophical theoretical historical and heuristic origins of this alternative are offered in detail within this book The Rise of China and the Capitalist World Order Li Xing, 2010 This book offers a non conventional analysis of the possible outcomes from China's transformation and provides a dialectical understanding of the complexities and underlying dynamics brought about by the rise of modern day China Scientific Diasporas as Development Partners Gabriela Tejada, Jean-Claude Bolay, 2010 Hospitality, Travel, and Tourism: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources, 2014-10-31 Over generations human society has woven a rich tapestry of culture art architecture and history personified in artifacts monuments and landmarks arrayed across the globe Individual communities are looking to exploit these local treasures for the benefit of the travelers who come to see them Hospitality Travel and Tourism Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications considers the effect of cultural heritage and destinations of interest on the global economy from the viewpoints of both visitor and host This broadly focused multi volume reference will provide unique insights for travelers business leaders sightseers cultural preservationists and others interested in the unique variety of human ingenuity and innovation around the world Mobilizing India Tejaswini Niranjana, 2006-10-12 An innovative analysis of how ideas of Indian identity negotiated within the Indian diaspora in Trinidad affect cultural identities back home in India Mobilizing the African Diasporas for the Development of Africa Migration for Development in Africa (Program), 2004 Women's Studies Catherine R. Loeb, Susan E. Seering, 1987 Index to International Statistics, 2008 Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall, 2003 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers Alternative Press Index, 1997 International Books in Print, 1986 Arts & Humanities Citation Index, 1986 A multidisciplinary index covering the journal literature of the arts and humanities It fully covers 1 144 of the world's leading arts and humanities journals and it indexes individually selected relevant items from over 6 800 major science and social science journals Mobilizing the African Diasporas for the Development of Africa, 2004 Development and the African Diaspora Doctor Claire Mercer, Ben Page, Martin Evans, 2008-11-01 There has been much recent celebration of the success of African civil society in forging global connections through an ever growing diaspora Against the background of such celebrations this innovative book sheds light on the diasporic networks home associations whose economic contributions are being used to develop home Despite these networks being part of the flow of migrants resources back to Africa that now outweighs official development assistance the relationship between the flow of capital and social and political change are still poorly understood Looking in particular at Cameroon and Tanzania the authors examine the networks of migrants that have been created by making home associations international They argue that claims in favour of enlarging civil society in Africa must be placed in the broader context of the political economy of migration and wider debates concerning ethnicity and belonging They demonstrate both that diasporic development is distinct from mainstream development and that it is an uneven historical process in which some homes are better placed to take advantage of global connections than others In doing so the book engages critically with the current enthusiasm among policy makers for treating the African diaspora as an untapped resource for combating poverty Its focus on diasporic networks rather than private remittances reveals the particular successes and challenges diasporas face in acting as a group not least in mobilising members of the diaspora to fulfill obligations to home

Development and the African Diaspora Doctor Claire Mercer, Ben Page, Martin Evans, 2009-05-22 There has been much recent celebration of the success of African civil society in forging global connections through an ever growing diaspora Against the background of such celebrations this innovative book sheds light on the diasporic networks home associations whose economic contributions are being used to develop home Despite these networks being part of the flow of migrants resources back to Africa that now outweighs official development assistance the relationship between the flow of capital and social and political change are still poorly understood Looking in particular at Cameroon and Tanzania the authors examine the networks of migrants that have been created by making home associations international They argue that claims in favour of enlarging civil society in Africa must be placed in the broader context of the political economy of migration and wider debates concerning ethnicity and belonging They demonstrate both that diasporic development is distinct from mainstream development and that it is an uneven historical process in which some homes are better placed to take advantage of global connections than others In doing so the book engages critically with the current enthusiasm among policy makers for treating the African diaspora as an untapped resource for combating poverty Its focus on diasporic networks rather than private remittances reveals the particular successes and challenges diasporas face in acting as a group not least in mobilising members of the diaspora to fulfill obligations to home

Multidisciplinary Issues Surrounding African Diasporas Onyebadi, Uche T., 2019-10-04 Members of diasporic populations often have a unique dual persona consisting of one s migrant role as a permanent or transient member of a new country and one s role as a citizen of one s home country Like all diaspora the African diaspora is further composed of sub groups of people of a variety of backgrounds and disciplines such that there is a need for studies that properly encompass and address the African diaspora across a multitude of fields and pedagogies including architecture education and business Multidisciplinary Issues Surrounding African Diasporas is a pivotal reference source that explores the philosophical and epistemological issues regarding the African diaspora identity and navigates these individuals opportunities for professional and academic growth Featuring coverage on a wide range of topics such as higher education cultural engagement and xenophobia this publication is ideally designed for sociologists anthropologists humanities scholars political scientists
