Innovation, Industrial Dynamics and Structural Transformation Uwe Cantner, Franco Malerba, 2007-03-08 The general theme of the 10th International Joseph A Schumpeter Society Conference held during June 9th-12th 2004 at Università Luigi Bocconi Milan was the exploration of the dynamics of industries driven by the highly interrelated processes of innovation and of structural transformation The phenomena addressed are at the core of Schumpeter's work and the discussion of these endogenously created modes of change constitutes one of the major Schumpeterian legacies of today Indeed the influence of the Schumpeterian approach to economic dynamics is far reaching and covers evolutionary as well as neoclassical theories This book provides an account of work in the Schumpeterian and evolutionary tradition of industrial dynamics and the evolution of industries Here the main analytical concern is that over time industries evolve and change their structure and that in this dynamic process knowledge and technologies the capabilities and incentives of actors new products and processes as well as variants of existing ones and institutions affect and constrain change sometimes smoothly and so times in a radical way Thus what is meant here by the term structure and structural change is not the traditional market structure view as reflected for example in the classical discussion of the Schumpeterian Hypotheses but all those elements and relations between actors knowledge and technologies which drive innovative activities and greatly affect economic performance in an industry
