Man, 1997-03-31 The purpose of this book is to focus on the contribution of one of the most prominent scholars in the strategy field Michael Porter from both a practitioner that is Chief Executive Officer CEO perspective and from a research perspective Using such a dual perspective may improve the relevance of strategy research for the business community Four leading chief executives two from European multinationals Royal Dutch Shell Group and Unilever N V and two from important Dutch public organizations the Port of Rotterdam and the Ministry of Economic Affairs were invited to reflect on Porter's contributions to four levels of analysis 1 business level strategy 2 corporate level strategy 3 regional competitiveness and finally 4 national competitiveness Against this background the book is structured as follows Chapters 2 to 8 deal with the four mentioned levels of analysis from a dual perspective theoretical and managerial The two final chapters aim to find out how Porter's theories are related to each other and whether and how the different levels of analysis can be connected

Controlling instruments in the "INTOP" business game Marvin Mertens, 2014-06-04 Seminar paper from the year 2013 in the subject Business economics Controlling grade 1 3 University of Münster Institut für Unternehmensrechnung und Besteuerung course INTOP Seminar language English abstract Hans B Thorelli Robert L Graves and Lloyd T Howells the initial developers of INTOP put strong emphasis on the ubiquity of entrepreneurial opportunities and decision situations that INTOP participants have to cope with Against this complex background this paper aims at showing how strategic and operative controlling instruments can be used to structure information and thus to provide support in both strategic and operative decision situations The underlying understanding of controlling in this paper is based on Robert J Mockler's concept of management control as a systematic effort by business management to compare performance to predetermined standards plans or objectives According to Mockler controlling begins with a firm's plans and expectations which shape its objectives and standards These objectives and standards are considered as preconditions for performance measurement Given its aim this paper is split into two parts Chapter two deals with the strategic dimension of controlling In 2 1 the structure of the radio industry is analysed using Porter's five forces In 2 2 the results of this analysis are used to discuss an INTOP company's strategic alternatives following the three generic strategies developed by Porter 2 3 includes an exemplary operationalization of the strategy of cost leadership using Kaplan and Norton's Balanced Scorecard In chapter three controlling is seen from its operative perspective In 3 1 it is shown how a multiple stage margin accounting system can be used to improve decisions concerning product policy In 3 2 a break even analysis is used to determine the right timing for the implementation of a regional sales organisation In order to provide an in depth analysis of a specific industry this paper solely deals with the INTOP radio industry However the instruments applied can also be used by firms that are engaged in the vacuum cleaner industry Since more than one strategy can lay the foundations for success in INTOP this paper shall not dictate one particular strategy that automatically leads to success Instead it provides an overview of alternative strategic approaches each of which can make if implemented appropriately INTOP participants succeed The selection of instruments applied in this paper is not exhaustive The instruments that are presented were selected because they can be used to handle problems that are of high importance in the specific context of INTOP

A Critical Evaluation of Michael Porter's Five Forces Framework Johannes Walder, 2017-07-17 Porter's five forces analysis is a framework for analyzing the level of competition within an industry and business strategy development It draws upon industrial organization IO economics to derive five forces that determine the competitive intensity and therefore the attractiveness of an industry Attractiveness in this context refers to the overall industry profitability An unattractive industry is one in which the combination of these five forces acts to drive down overall profitability A very unattractive industry would be one approaching pure competition in which available profits for all firms are driven to normal profit This analysis is associated with its principal innovator Michael E Porter of Harvard University This updated and expanded second edition of Book provides a user friendly introduction to the subject Taking a clear structural framework it guides the reader through the subject's core elements A flowing writing style combines with the use of illustrations and diagrams throughout the text to ensure the reader understands even the most complex of concepts This succinct and enlightening overview is a required reading for all those interested in the subject We hope you find this book useful in shaping your future career Business
