Constructing Cultures By Susan Bassnett:

Constructing Cultures Susan Bassnett, André Lefevere, 1998 This collection brings together two leading figures in the discipline of translation studies The essays cover a range of fields and combine theory with practical case studies involving the translation of literary texts

Constructing Cultures Susan Bassnett, André Lefevere, 1998 This book brings together for the first time the work of the two translator scholars who are regarded as founders of this major field of study It continues to develop some of the principal research lines that both have been pursuing in recent years most specifically the cultural turn in Translation Studies

Constructing Cultures Susan Bassnett, André Lefevere, 1988 Translation, Linguistics, Culture Nigel Armstrong, 2005-01-01 This book takes a linguistic approach to translation issues looking first at the structural view of language that explains the difficulty of translation and at theories of cultural non equivalence A subsequent chapter on text types readership and the translator's role completes the theoretical framework The linguistic levels of analysis are then discussed in ascending order from morpheme up to sentence while a summarising chapter considers various translation types and strategies again considered in relation to text type author and reader

Translation Studies Susan Bassnett, 2013-10-30 At a time when millions travel around the planet some by choice some driven by economic or political exile translation of the written and spoken word is of ever increasing importance This guide presents readers with an accessible and engaging introduction to the valuable position translation holds within literature and society Leading translation theorist Susan Bassnett traces the history of translation examining the ways translation is currently utilized as a burgeoning interdisciplinary activity and extending her analysis into developing areas such as developing technologies and new media forms Translation Studies fourth edition displays the importance of translation across disciplines and is essential reading for students and scholars of translation literary studies globalisation studies and ancient and modern languages

Translation, Rewriting, and the Manipulation of Literary Fame André Lefevere, 2016-10-26 Lefevere explores how the process of rewriting works of literature manipulates them to ideological and artistic ends so that the rewritten text can be given a new sometimes subversive historical or literary status

Reading the Abrahamic Faiths Emma Mason, 2014-12-18 Rethinking religion and literature in a series of chapters by leading international scholars Reading the Abrahamic Faiths opens up a dialogue between Jewish Christian Islamic and Post Secular literary cultures Literary studies has absorbed religion as another interdisciplinary mode of inquiry without always attending to its multifaceted potential to question ideologically neutral readings of culture belief emotion politics and inequality In response Reading the Abrahamic Faiths contributes to a reevaluation of the nexus between religion and literature that is socially affectively and materially determined in its sensitivity to the expression of belief Each section Judaism Christianity Islam and Post Secularism is introduced by a specialist in these respective areas to introduce the critical readings of the texts and discourses that follow

Diaspora as translation and decolonisation Ipek Demir, 2022-05-17 This innovative study engages critically with existing conceptualisations of diaspora arguing that if diaspora is to have analytical purchase it should illuminate a specific angle of migration or migrancy To reveal the much needed transformative potential of the concept the book looks specifically at how diasporas undertake translation and decolonisation It offers various conceptual tools for investigating diaspora with a specific focus on diasporas in the Global North and a detailed empirical study of the Kurdish diaspora in Europe The book also considers the backlash diasporas of colour have faced in the Global North

Studying British Cultures Susan Bassnett, 2003 A collection of essays devoted to British Cultural Studies covering most of the key areas in literature language media and culture Bassnett provides a substantial and accessible introduction to map out the territory

Rendering Chinese Classics into English II Pan Wenguo, 2025-10-31 This second volume of the three part encyclopedia of Chinese English translation provides a comprehensive exploration of the evolution of translation studies in both China and the West The book systematically examines the development of Western translation theory organizing its progression into five distinct phases It also traces the history of Chinese translation from early Buddhist sutra translations to modern practices offering comparative analysis of Eastern and Western theories and methodologies Additionally the volume explores the evolution of Chinese translation theory before and after the twentieth century with particular attention to the contributions of key figures such as Yan Fu An essential resource for scholars students and practitioners this volume offers invaluable insights into translation methodology and serves as a practical guide for those working with classical Chinese texts It is a must read for anyone engaged in Chinese English translation or Chinese studies

Translation Susan Bassnett, 2013-10-01 In a time when millions travel around the planet some by choice some driven by economic or political exile translation of the written and spoken word is of ever increasing importance This guide presents readers with an accessible and engaging introduction to the valuable position translation holds within literature and society Leading translation theorist Susan Bassnett traces the history of translation examining the ways translation is currently utilised as a burgeoning interdisciplinary activity and considers more recent research into developing technologies and new media forms Translation displays the importance of translation across disciplines and is essential reading for students and scholars of translation literary studies globalisation studies and ancient and modern languages

Pirandello Studies, 2000 Emilie Du Châtelet Judith P. Zinsser, Julie Candler Hayes, 2006 Until recently the marquise Du Châtelet 1706 1749 was more remembered as the companion of Voltaire than as an intellectual in her own right While much has been written about his extraordinary output during the years he spent in her company her own work has often been overshadowed This volume brings renewed attention to Du Châtelet's intellectual achievements including her free translation of selections from Bernard Mandeville's Fable of the bees her dissertation on the nature and propagation of fire for the 1738 prize competition of the Académie des sciences the 1740 Institutions de physique and ensuing exchange with the perpetual secretary of the Académie Diderot de Mairan her two volume exegesis of the Bible the translation of and commentary on Isaac Newton's Principia and her semi-autobiographical Discours sur le bonheur It is a measure of the breadth of her interests that the contributions to this volume come from experts in a wide range of disciplines comparative literature art history the history of mathematics and science philosophy the history of publishing and translation studies Du Châtelet's partnership with Voltaire is reflected in a number of the essays they borrowed from each other's writings from the discussions they had together and from their shared readings Essays examine representations of her by her contemporaries and posterity that range from her inclusion in a German portrait gallery of learned men and women to the scathing portrait in Françoise de Graffigny's correspondence and nineteenth century accounts coloured by conflicted views of the ancien régime Other essays offer close readings of her work and set her activities and writings in their intellectual and social contexts Finally they speculate on the ways in which she presented herself and what that might tell us about the challenges and possibilities facing an exceptional woman of rank and privilege in eighteenth century society Translation and Westernisation in Turkey from the 1840s to the 1980s Özlem Berk, 2004 The Many Lives of Galileo Dougal McNeill, 2005 The Many Lives of Galileo is a Marxist study of the development of Bertolt Brecht's great play Galileo on the English stage Tracing various translations of Brecht's original and the historical and political moments surrounding these translations Dougal McNeill examines how across the distances of culture history and language The Life of Galileo has come to figure so prominently in the life of English language theatre The translations and productions of Galileo by Charles Laughton Howard Brenton and David Hare are examined in a method combining close reading with an attention to broader social contexts with an eye to uncovering their implications for drama in performance Brecht valued re-creation re-invention and re-telling as much as creation itself In this book the author applies Brecht's aesthetic to translations of his own work following Laughton Brenton and Hare as they set themselves the task of rewriting Brecht and in the process use him to comment on their own eras La traduzione multimediale Rosa Maria Bollettieri Bosinelli, 2000 Migration and Fiction Maria Löschnigg, Martin Löschnigg, 2009 The Translator, 2006 Teaching and Researching Translation Basil Hatim, 2001 This new book introduces students and teachers of translation to the intricacies of the process and demands of the subject The author shows how theoretical perspectives relate to practical pursuits in translation and interpreting studies and presents relevant research issues and their applications to teaching
