The Criminalization of Violence Against Women Heather Douglas, Kate Fitz-Gibbon, Leigh Goodmark, Sandra Walklate, 2023 Criminalization as a strategy to respond to violence against women is currently being debated across the globe In North and South America the United Kingdom and in Australia the criminalization of coercive control and other types of non physical forms of abuse are high on national agendas However the criminalization path has been unfolding in different ways with many questioning the effectiveness of criminal laws and their impact on victim survivors Authors in this collection assess the scope impact and alternatives to criminalization in the response to violence against women worldwide

Employment Policies and Multilevel Governance Roger Blanpain, Juan Pablo Landa, Brian Langille, Philippe Auvergnon, 2009-01-01 Compares multilevel manpower and social policy in five EU member states with one chapter also on the Canadian federal model

Criminal Policy in Transition Penny Green, Andrew Rutherford, 2000-12-11 Criminal Policy in Transition comes along at a time when the literature in criminology is desperately short of global perspectives It helps fill that gap while it presents important new insights into changing penal policy and practice That it raises as many questions as it seems to answer is one of its great strengths The authors write knowledgeably about their home societies without being prematurely bounded by comparative criteria As a result they develop a complex and uneven image of similarities and differences of divergence and convergence through time In this sense the collection offers a model of how international collaborative work should proceed The book is the product of a workshop held at the International Institute for the Sociology of Law IISL in Onati Spain The IISL is a partnership between the Research Committee on the Sociology of Law and the Basque Government

Learning Theory, 2004 Disability, Criminal Justice and Law Linda Steele, 2020-04-29 Through theoretical and empirical examination of legal frameworks for court diversion this book interrogates law's complicity in the debilitation of disabled people In a post deinstitutionalisation era diverting disabled people from criminal justice systems and into mental health and disability services is considered therapeutic humane and socially just Yet by drawing on Foucauldian theory of biopolitics critical legal and political theory and critical disability theory Steele argues that court diversion continues disability oppression It can facilitate criminalisation control and punishment of disabled people who are not sentenced and might not even be convicted of any criminal offences On a broader level court diversion contributes to the longstanding phenomenon of disability specific coercive intervention legitimates prison incarceration and shores up the boundaries of foundational legal concepts at the core of jurisdiction legal personhood and sovereignty Steele shows that the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities cannot respond to the complexities of court diversion suggesting the CRPD is of limited use in contesting carceral control and legal and settler colonial violence The book not only offers new ways to understand relationships between disability criminal justice and law it also proposes theoretical and practical strategies that contribute to the development of a wider re imagining of a more progressive and just socio legal order The book will be of interest to scholars and students of disability law criminal law medical law socio legal studies disability studies social work and criminology It will also be of interest to disability prisoner and social justice activists
