For undergraduate courses in Behavior Modification or Behavior Therapy. This book presents a comprehensive practical presentation of both the principles of behavior modification and guidelines for their application. Throughout their separate experiences in teaching behavior modification over the past 39 years, both Garry Martin and Joseph Pear's goals have remained the same: to teach people about the principles of behavior modification and how to apply them effectively to their everyday concerns, from helping children learn life's necessary skills to solving some of their own personal behavior problems. Through eight editions, their text has remained successful and effective because it addresses the needs of two central audiences: college and university students taking courses in behavior modification and its related areas, and students or practitioners of various helping professions such as clinical psychology, counseling, medicine, etc., who are concerned directly with enhancing various forms of behavioral development. Assuming no prior knowledge of behavior modification or psychology, this text facilitates understanding of the principles of behavior modification and helps readers to successfully implement behavior modification programs.

Behavior Modification W. Edward Craighead, Alan E. Kazdin, Michael J. Mahoney, 1981 Behavior Modification Edward P. Sarafino, 2001. This clearly written and engaging text is a comprehensive introduction to the principles and techniques of behavior modification. Drawing on research theory and personal experience, the author explains and provides examples of how these principles have been tested and applied in a variety of settings. The text is organized so that relatively simple concepts and techniques are introduced in the beginning chapters and then built upon toward increasingly complex and specialized methods, allowing behavior modification principles to unfold in an orderly sequence. Coverage of seldom covered topics includes overshadowing, habit reversal, self-monitoring, self-instruction, and covert behavioral methods for changing respondent behavior.
