Dancing On Our Turtles Back Stories Of Nishnaabeg Re Creation Resurgence And A New Emergence Leanne Simpson:

Dancing on Our Turtle's Back Leanne Simpson, 2011 By combining provocative prose with photo essay Time and the Suburbs explores the disappearance of cities in North America under the weight of suburban exurban and other forms of development that are changing the way we live and do politics Drawing on social theory from Henri Lefebvre and Guy Debord to Antonio Negri this book reconceptualizes the tasks facing activists and social movements This is both a provocative essay and introduction to important social theory for anyone interested in cities and urban development As We Have Always Done Leanne Betasamosake Simpson, 2017-10-17 Winner Native American and Indigenous Studies Association's Best Subsequent Book 2017 Honorable Mention Labriola Center American Indian National Book Award 2017 Across North America Indigenous acts of resistance have in recent years opposed the removal of federal protections for forests and waterways in Indigenous lands halted the expansion of tar sands extraction and the pipeline construction at Standing Rock and demanded justice for murdered and missing Indigenous women In As We Have Always Done Leanne Betasamosake Simpson locates Indigenous political resurgence as a practice rooted in uniquely Indigenous theorizing writing organizing and thinking Indigenous resistance is a radical rejection of contemporary colonialism focused around the refusal of the dispossession of both Indigenous bodies and land Simpson makes clear that its goal can no longer be cultural resurgence as a mechanism for inclusion in a multicultural mosaic Instead she calls for unapologetic place based Indigenous alternatives to the destructive logics of the settler colonial state including heteropatriarchy white supremacy and capitalist exploitation

Feminist Research for 21st-century Childhoods B. Denise Hodgins, 2019-03-21 This book is a collection of feminist childhood studies stories from field research with educators young children and/or early childhood student educators that explores the challenges tensions and possibilities of common worlds research methods for the 21st century Grounded in a common worlding orientation the contributing authors grapple with complex methodological understandings within postqualitative practices within settler colonial states Australia Canada South Africa and the United States Each chapter presents a method the authors have put to work in their efforts to unsettle the interpretative power of Euro Western developmental knowledges and anthropocentric frameworks to reimagine research amid the colonialist social and environmental challenges we face today The researching stories act as provocations for generating innovative relational and emergent methods to attend to the complexity of 21st century childhoods Just as developmental and sociological perspectives gave birth to new forms of inquiry within childhood studies in 19th century industrialization and 20th century urban change respectively the 21st century requires novel questions practices and methodologies to enhance the childhood studies lexicon In the field of childhood studies where settler colonial and neoliberal logics have so much clout such strategies are crucial Feminist Research for 21st century Childhoods is an important and relevant read for anyone working and researching with children

Settler, 2nd Edition Emma Battell Lowman, Adam J. Barker, 2025-04-17T00:00:00Z A decade ago the first edition of this defining book explained what it meant to be Settler acknowledging that Canada has been forged through ongoing violence displacement and assimilation of Indigenous communities and Nations and argued that accepting this identity is an important first step towards changing relationships with Indigenous Peoples The national conversation about settler colonialism has advanced significantly since that time thanks to Indigenous struggles that have resulted in high profile official apologies and inquiries into the devastating inequity between Indigenous and Settler lives in Canada However this progress is not enough many of the same problems persist due to the underlying inequities at the core of Canadian identity politics and society In this revised second edition Battell Lowman and Barker reflect on the term's changing more nuanced and continued importance Touching on the rise of right wing nationalism the power and limitations of social media and ten years of federal Liberal government this new edition of Settler considers the successes and failures of Settler Canadians in supporting decolonization and charting our next steps towards transformative change

Red Skin, White Masks Glen Sean Coulthard, 2014-08-15 WINNER OF Frantz Fanon Outstanding Book from the Caribbean Philosophical Association Canadian Political Science Association's C B MacPherson Prize Studies in Political Economy Book Prize Over the past forty years recognition has become the dominant mode of negotiation and decolonization between the nation state and Indigenous nations in North America The term recognition shapes debates over Indigenous cultural distinctiveness Indigenous rights to land and self government and Indigenous peoples right to benefit from the development of their lands and resources In a work of critically engaged political theory Glen Sean Coulthard challenges recognition as a method of organizing difference and identity in liberal politics questioning the assumption that contemporary difference and past histories of destructive colonialism between the state and Indigenous peoples can be reconciled through a process of acknowledgment Beyond this Coulthard examines an alternative politics one that seeks to revalue reconstruct and redeploy Indigenous cultural practices based on self recognition rather than on seeking appreciation from the very agents of colonialism Coulthard demonstrates how a place based modification of Karl Marx s theory of primitive accumulation throws light on Indigenous state relations in settler colonial contexts and how Frantz Fanon s critique of colonial recognition shows that this relationship reproduces itself over time This framework strengthens his exploration of the ways that the politics of recognition has come to serve the interests of settler colonial power In addressing the core tenets of Indigenous resistance movements like Red Power and Idle No More Coulthard offers fresh insights into the politics of active decolonization

Here Is a Figure Sarah Dowling,2024-12-15 A study of supine prone and recumbent figures in contemporary literature The prostitute the protester the murder victim the invalid the layabout the depressive all are associated with lying down Skewing and flattening the perpendicular axis that defines the human in Western philosophy art and humanist inquiry these downward directed figures refusals or failures to hew to the moral and postural logics of uprightness enable a reassessment of subjectivity ecological relation and representation that last of which is after all a process of standing in for Here Is a Figure Grounding Literary Form works across an array of well known and counter canonical texts showing that recumbent figures saturate the literary arts of the present and respond to the proliferation of contemporary forms of grounding in all its meanings Reading these figures in dialogue with critical Indigenous studies disability studies and horizontalist feminisms Sarah Dowling reveals the potential in thinking with and through a position stretched out across dependent on and undetachable from the earth
