

The background of the book cover is a detailed architectural line drawing in a reddish-brown color. It depicts a complex urban environment with various building forms, including a prominent grid-like structure in the upper left, a multi-story building with a central tower in the middle, and a large, open plaza area in the foreground. The drawing uses fine lines and cross-hatching to create depth and texture.

Invisibles David Zweig, 2014-06-12 An inspiring look at the hidden stars in every field who perform essential work without recognition In a culture where so many strive for praise and glory what kind of person finds the greatest reward in anonymous work Expanding from his acclaimed Atlantic article What Do Fact Checkers and Anesthesiologists Have in Common David Zweig explores what we can all learn from a modest group he calls Invisibles Their careers require expertise skill and dedication yet they receive little or no public credit And that's just fine with them Zweig met with a wide range of Invisibles to discover first hand what motivates them and how they define success and satisfaction His fascinating subjects include a virtuoso cinematographer for major films the lead engineer on some of the world's tallest skyscrapers a high end perfume maker an elite interpreter at the United Nations Despite the diversity of their careers Zweig found that all Invisibles embody the same core traits And he shows why the rest of us might be more fulfilled if we followed their example

Internationalisation and Marketisation of Higher Education in the UK Zahra Kemiche, 2024-09-23 This timely volume sets out the author's novel concept of the Organic model of internationalisation developed using participants' perceptions lived experiences and recommendations for a better sustainable future of HE and explores its broader application in the context of higher education Using the qualitative IPA Interpretative Phenomenological Analysis approach chapters showcase the lived experiences and subjective perspectives of individuals around the paradox that internationalisation presents the distorting effects of institutional power and the market and ethics based concerns of internationalisation in higher education Drawing on an in depth empirical study conducted using participant observation and interviews with participants from three UK universities the book proposes a framework for redefining the global discourse of HE through the Organic model and urges the need for a compromise between profit and ethics to the benefit of both organisations and individuals The book thoroughly discusses racist practices and introduces the concepts of xeno racism and angelism ensuring that the proposed approach is authentic and responsive to the diverse experiences of the student body Showcasing a model with international potential and ramifications this book will appeal to researchers academics and postgraduate students in higher education internationalisation and international study mobility Practitioners and policymakers may also benefit from the volume

Approaching East-Central Europe over the Centuries Marija Wakounig, Ferdinand Kühnel, 2020-05-30 During the 1970s the today's Austrian Federal Ministry of Education Science and Research Bundesministerium für Bildung Wissenschaft und Forschung BMBWF supported the founding of the Center for Austrian Studies at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis and the Austrian Chair at Stanford University in California. These foundations were the initial incentives for the world wide spreading of similar institutions: currently nine Centers for Austrian and Central European Studies exist in seven states on three continents. The funding of the Ministry enables to connect senior with young scholars to help the latter to participate and benefit from the scientific connection of the former as the Austrian say to sniff the scientific air and to get in touch with the respective national scientific community to avoid prejudices and to spread a better understanding and knowledge about Austria and Central Europe. This volume contains the annual reports 2016/2017 of the Center Directors and the presented papers of their PhDs which discuss various topics on East Central European History from various perspectives and in different centuries.

Invisibili David Zweig, 2014-10-21. In un mondo sempre più perso nel rumore assordante dell'autopromozione ci sono molti professionisti di altissimo livello sconosciuti ai più e contenti dell'anonimato: il loro ruolo essenziale qualunque sia il campo in cui operano. Paradossalmente meglio lavorano più restano nell'ombra. Di fatto solo quando qualcosa va storto ci si accorge di loro. Sono gli invisibili. L'autore ci porta dietro le quinte e ce li fa conoscere di persona. Dal tecnico del suono dei Radiohead all'interprete alle Nazioni Unite, dal ghost writer di Denzel Washington e Serena Williams al creatore di profumi per Calvin Klein, Hugo Boss, Tom Ford. Abbiamo molto da imparare dagli invisibili.

The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory C. Greig Crysler, Stephen Cairns, Hilde Heynen, 2012-01-10. The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory documents and builds upon some of the most innovative developments in architectural theory over the last two decades. Bringing into dialogue a range of geographically, institutionally and historically competing positions, the book examines and explores parallel debates in related fields. The book is divided into eight sections: Power, Difference, Embodiment, Aesthetics, Pleasure, Excess, Nation, Spectacle, Modernity, History, Memory, Tradition, Design, Practice, Production, Technology, Science, Virtuality, Nature, Landscape, Sustainability, City, Metropolis, Territory. Creating openings for future lines of inquiry and establishing the basis for new directions for education, research and practice, the book organizes itself around specific case studies to provide a critical interpretive and speculative enquiry into the relevant debates in architectural theory. A methodical, authoritative and comprehensive addition to the literature, the Handbook is suitable for academics, researchers and practitioners in architecture, urban geography, cultural studies, sociology and geography.

Model Building Ideas Jonathan A. Lawrence Kasparowitz, 2017-03-15. An illustrated guide to architectural thinking.

Building Ideas Jonathan A. Hale, 2000-08-01. Building Ideas: An Introduction to Architectural Theory. This book is an essential text for students of architecture and related disciplines, satisfying the demand for an accessible introduction to the major theoretical debates in contemporary architecture. Written in a lucid and user-friendly style, the book also acts as a guide and companion volume to the many primary theoretical texts recently made available in reprinted collections. Whilst architectural monographs collections of building precedents and polemical manifestoes are growing more and more numerous Building Ideas is the first book to provide an introduction to such a broad range of issues in architectural theory This text therefore serves to fill a widening gap between the everyday practice of architecture and the often bewildering field of academic theoretical debate Beginning with a general introduction to the field of architectural theory covering the interface between philosophy and technology in the production and interpretation of buildings the book presents the major theoretical positions in contemporary architecture through a series of thematically structured chapters Each chapter deals with a specific approach to the theory and criticism of architecture by presenting a series of related buildings as illustrations of a key theoretical position as well as setting this position in a cultural and historical context Under the five broad headings of Architecture as Engineering The Technological Revolution Architecture as Art Aesthetics in Philosophy The Return of the Body Phenomenology in Architecture Systems of Communication Structuralism and Semiotics and Politics and Architecture The Marxist Tradition the book presents a wide but critical survey of the central questions in the current theoretical debate Providing the theoretical tools necessary for an understanding of the history of philosophies and technologies in architecture this book is essential reading for undergraduate architectural theory courses as well as a first point of reference for anyone wishing to understand the complex connections between architecture and related fields of cultural enquiry Architect to English Chad Pryor, 2017-02-04 As with any profession architects have a specific way of communicating When talking with potential clients architects have a way of trying to dazzle with elegant phrases and informed jargon That same talent can also be one of our biggest flaws Through the heavy use of idioms metaphors and unintentionally hilarious comparisons we sometimes struggle to communicate clearly I began writing down some of the things I overheard in meetings around the office and with design colleagues Throughout the book I've written the quote said by an architect along with the non architect English translation The illustrations in this book are sometimes a satirical response to the quote Most times the illustrations are based on my experiences of being a 20 30 something year old participating in and observing the latest urban trends The Millennial version of keeping up with the Joneses has become about who can try the trendiest food spot travel the most places and have the most jealously inducing social media post I myself am a hipster according to most standards I am also an architect So all of the content is aimed at me as much as anyone else Don't take this too seriously and don't get all butt hurt over it 13 Ways of Looking at Architectural Theory (First Edition) Glenn Np Nowak, 2013-12-31 Unified Architectural Theory: Form, Language, Complexity Nikos A. Salingaros, 2017-06-05 The Theory of Architecture Paul-Alan Johnson, 1994-04-18 The Theory of Architecture Concepts Themes Practices Paul Alan Johnson Although it has long been thought that theory directs architectural practice no one has explained precisely how the connection between theory and practice is supposed to work This guide asserts that architectural theory does not direct practice but is itself a form of reflective practice Paul Alan Johnson cuts through the jargon and mystery of architectural theory to clarify how it relates to actual applications in the field He also reveals the connections between new and old ideas to enhance the reader's powers of critical evaluation Nearly 100 major concepts, themes, and practices of architecture as well as the rhetoric of architects and designers are presented in an easily accessible format Throughout Johnson attempts to reduce each architectural notion into its essential concept By doing so he makes theory accessible for everyday professional discussion Topics are arranged under ten headings: identification, definition, power, attitudes, ethics, order, authority, governance, relationship, and expression Areas covered under these headings include: Utopic thought in theories of architecture; Advocacy and citizen participation in architecture; The basis of architectural quality and excellence; The roles of the architect as artist, poet, scientist, and technologist; Ethical obligations of architecture; Rationales for models and methods of design; How authority is determined in architecture; How architects structure their concepts; Conventions of communication within the architectural profession Each section begins by showing the etymology of key terms of the topic discussed along with a summary history of the topic's use in architecture Discussions probe the conceptual and philosophical difficulties of different theories as well as their potential and limitations in past and present usage Among the provocative issues discussed in terms of their relationship to architecture are chaos theory, feminism, service to the community, and the use of metaphor Johnson points out with stunning clarity the intentions as well as the contradictions and inconsistencies of all notions and concepts All architects and designers as well as students and teachers in these disciplines will gain many insights about architectural thought in this groundbreaking text

13 Ways of Looking at Architectural Theory Glenn Nowak, 2011-08-22 Architectural Theory, The Vitruvian Fallacy David Smith Capon, 1999-03-10 The two volumes of Architectural Theory bring together the fundamental elements of architecture and present them in a new and accessible format The books define the areas of knowledge necessary for successful design and criticism and for the first time in the history of architectural literature integrate all the concepts to form a balanced and comprehensive whole Volume One A History of the Categories in Architecture and Philosophy establishes the framework of architectural theory The author presents a systematic analysis of what constitutes good architecture in the West tracing the history of architectural theory through the metaphysics of ancient Greece, the doctrines of early and medieval Christianity up to the concepts and categories of modern philosophy The twentieth century has seen more building and more analysis of building than any other Volume Two Principles of Twentieth century Architectural Theory Arranged by Category focuses on the recent fragmentation of architectural theory into distinct doctrines: Formalism, minimalism, mannerism, functionalism, rationalism, brutalism, positivism, romanticism, expressionism, classicism, constructivism, organicism, modernism, futurism, radicalism, deconstructivism, historicism, post modernism each movement has influenced the shape of architectural thinking over the last century Principles of Twentieth century Architectural Theory Arranged by Category analyses each in turn and places each in context The volumes are liberally illustrated with representative buildings of the period and include a glossary of terms, a thesaurus, an annotated guide to further reading as well as diagrammatic links connecting themes across both volumes The two volumes whether studied together or individually will prove invaluable to students of architecture and related disciplines

Rethinking Technology William W. Braham, Jonathan A. Hale, John Stanislaw Sadar, 2007 This book is an essential reference for all students of architecture design and the built environment providing a convenient single source for all the key texts in the fast developing discipline of the philosophy of technology The authors focus on the interplay between technology and society and consider the impact of technology on fields as diverse as art and visual culture politics the environment gender and the hottest topic of all in today's digitally mediated world the promise of a virtual future inside the fluid space of the computer

A Theory of Architecture Nikos A. Salingaros, 2021-04-02 More than a decade in the making this is a textbook of architecture useful for every architect from first year students to those taking senior design studio to graduate students writing a Ph D dissertation in architectural theory to experienced practicing architects It is very carefully written so that it can be read even by the beginning architecture student The information contained here is a veritable gold mine of design techniques This book teaches the reader how to design by adapting to human needs and sensibilities yet independently of any particular style Here is a unification of genuine architectural knowledge that brings a new clarity to the discipline It explains much of what people instinctively know about architecture and puts that knowledge for the first time in a concise understandable form Dr Salingaros has experience in the organization of the built environment that few practicing architects have The later chapters of this new book touch on very sensitive topics what drives architects to produce the forms they build and why architects use only a very restricted visual vocabulary Is it personal inventiveness or is it something more which perhaps they are not even aware of There has not been such a book treating the very essence of architecture The only other author who is capable of raising a similar degree of passion and controversy is Christopher Alexander who happens to be Dr Salingaros friend and architectural mentor Surely no voice is more thought provoking than that of this intriguing perhaps historically important new thinker From the Preface by His Royal Highness Charles The Prince of Wales A New Vitruvius for 21st Century Architecture and Urbanism Dr Ashraf Salama Chair Department of Architecture and Urban Planning Qatar University Doha Qatar Architecture Salingaros argues is governed by universal and intuitively understood principles which have been exemplified by all successful styles and in all civilizations that have left a record of themselves in their buildings The solution is not to return to the classical styles the solution is to return to first principles and build within their constraints Dr Roger Scruton Philosopher London UK A fundamental text among the most significant of the past several years Dr Vilma Torselli Architect and Author Milan Italy A Theory of Architecture demonstrates how mathematics and the social sciences offer keys to designing a humane architecture In this brilliant tome Salingaros explains why many modern buildings are neither beautiful nor harmonious and alternatively how architects and patrons can employ scale materials and mathematical logic to design structures which are exciting nourishing and visually delightful Duncan G Stroik Professor of Architecture University of Notre Dame Indiana Salingaros explores ways to clarify and formalize our understanding of aesthetic forms in the built environment using mathematics thermodynamics Darwinism complexity theory and cognitive sciences Salingaros remarkable observations suggest that concepts of complexity and scale can someday provide a full bodied explanation for both the practice and the appreciation of architecture Kim Sorvig Architecture Planning University of New Mexico See this book s Wikipedia entry http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/A_Theory_of_Architecture Nikos A Salingaros is an internationally known urbanist and architectural theorist who has studied the scientific bases underlying architecture for thirty years Utne Reader ranked him as One of 50 visionaries who are changing your world and Planetizen as 11th among The top 100 urban thinkers of all time He is Professor of Mathematics at the University of Texas at San Antonio
