world that are working from the societal community relationship and individual levels to challenge the vulnerable victim discourse through positioning people with intellectual and other disabilities as social change agents shaping their safer lives. Divided into six chapters and providing case examples from Australia the United States New Zealand the United Kingdom Norway Sweden and the Global South this book profiles work done by government and community based anti violence service sectors in partnership with people with intellectual disability and their allies as well as work on sexuality rights and disability advocacy that is contributing to the social effort to prevent interpersonal violence against people with an intellectual disability. It is a must read resource for anyone doing interpersonal violence prevention research and work and can be used as primary or supplemental reading for students doing coursework and research in disability studies gender studies community psychology sociology public health and social work.
