Design of Industrial Information Systems Thomas

Boucher, Ali Yalcin, 2010-07-26 Design of Industrial Information Systems presents a body of knowledge applicable to many aspects of industrial and manufacturing systems. New software systems such as Enterprise Resource Planning and new hardware technologies such as RFID have made it possible to integrate what were separate IT databases and operations into one system to realize the greatest possible operational efficiencies. This text provides a background in and an introduction to the relevant information technologies and shows how they are used to model and implement integrated IT systems. With the growth of courses in information technology offered in industrial engineering and engineering management programs, the authors have written this book to show how such computer-based knowledge systems are designed and used in modern manufacturing and industrial companies. Introduces Data Modeling and Functional Architecture Design with a focus on integration for overall system design. Encompasses hands-on approach employing many in-chapter exercises and end-of-chapter problem sets with case studies in manufacturing and service industries. Shows the reader how Information Systems can be integrated into a wider E-business Web Enabled Database business model. Offers applications in Enterprise Resource Planning, ERP, and Manufacturing Execution Systems, MES.

Accounting Information Systems James A. Hall, 2003

Accounting Information Systems 4e provides thorough and up-to-date coverage of accounting information systems and related technologies. It features an early presentation of transaction cycles plus a special emphasis on ethics, fraud, and the modern manufacturing environment. Hall assumes that the student is familiar with fundamental accounting principles and basic computer concepts and terminology and has been exposed to computer programming. Hall's focus is on the needs and responsibilities of accountants as end users of systems, systems designers, and auditors.

Conceptual Modeling for Novel Application Domains Manfred A. Jeusfeld, Oscar Pastor, 2003-10-02. This book constitutes the refereed joint proceedings of four international workshops held in conjunction with the 22nd International Conference on Conceptual Modelling, ER 2003, held in Chicago, IL, USA, in October 2003. The 35 revised full papers presented together with introduction to the four workshops were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions. In accordance with the respective workshops, the papers are organized in topical sections on conceptual modelling approaches for e-business, conceptual modelling quality, agent-oriented information systems, XML data and schema.
