

Essential Literary Terms

allegory = Narrative of an extended metaphor with characters are personified abstractions, such as Death, Greed, Virtue.

alliteration = Repetition of the same consonant sounds, as in many miles Mary misordered.

allusion = Reference to a person, text, or event outside the text, as in these William Carlos Williams lines: According to Brueghel / When Icarus fell / it was spring—allusions to the 16th c. Dutch painter Brueghel and the Greek mythological figure Icarus.

ambiguity = Doubtfulness or uncertainty in interpretation.

ambivalence = Coexistence of opposing attitudes or feelings.

anachronism = Something that is out of its proper or chronological order, as in the reference to a clock in Shakespeare's Julius Caesar.

analogy = Comparison based on similarity; simile, metaphor, and allegory are examples of analogy.

anaphora = Repetition of the same word or words at the beginning of a series of phrases, lines, or sentences, as in these lines from an Elizabeth Barrett Browning sonnet: I love thee freely, as men strive for Right; / I love thee purely, as they turn from Praise. Similes to parallelism, but in parallelism there is repetition of grammatical construction, not necessarily the repetition of the same word or words at the beginning.

anecdote = Brief story about an amusing or interesting (usually autobiographical) event.

antagonist = Principal character in opposition to the protagonist or hero of a narrative or drama.

antithesis = Figure of speech that emphasizes opposing ideas or attitudes by a juxtaposition of contrasting, but parallel words and phrases, as in E. M. Forster's line Death destroys a man, but the idea of death saves him.

apostrophe = figure of speech in which the narrator/speaker addresses an inanimate object as if alive.

archetype = Ideal example of a type; certain character or personality types have become established, for example, the rebel, the all-conquering hero, the country bumpkin, the self-made person, the traitor, the snob, the social climber. Even creatures have become archetypal emblems: lion, eagle, snake, hare, tortoise.

aside = Piece of dialogue intended for the theater audience and supposedly not heard by the other actors on stage.

bathos = When a writer strives to express the sublime (or sentimental), but goes too far and the piece becomes absurd and ridiculous, making it subject to satire.

blank verse = Verse consisting of unrhymed lines, usually of iambic pentameter (such as in Shakespeare's plays). It is believed to be the poetic pattern closest to natural speech.

caesura = Pause in a poetic line, usually denoted by punctuation such as a semicolon or comma.

catharsis = Release of emotional tension, as after an overwhelming experience, restoring or refreshing the spirit.

character = a round character is complex and has many traits, develops in a story—also called a dynamic character; a flat character does not change and has few traits, does not develop—also called a static character.

characterization = Act of creating and developing a character. There are two methods: Direct characterization = When the writer states or describes a character's traits. Indirect characterization = When the writer shows a character's personality through his or her actions, thoughts, feelings, words, and appearance, or through another character's observations and reactions.

cliché = Trite or overused expression or idea, like wise as an owl, be there for someone, he didn't know his own mind, see the writing on the wall, making the best of it.

conceit = Elaborate extended analogy comparing two very different things, creating a surprisingly apt parallel, such as this line from a famous Shakespeare sonnet, Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?

conflict = Opposition between characters or forces in a work of drama or fiction, especially opposition that motivates or shapes the action of the plot. Examples are human versus human; human versus Nature; human versus himself.

connotation = Associative meanings of a word in addition to its literal sense, as in starch (negative), odor (negative/neutral), smell (neutral), aroma (positive). Connotation may be personal and individual, or general and universal.

denotation = Specific or direct meaning of a word found in the dictionary, in contrast to its figurative or associated meanings, which is called connotation. The denotation of home is a dwelling in which people live; the connotation is positive and comforting for most people.

dialect = Regional variety of a language distinguished by pronunciation, grammar, or vocabulary, especially a

James P Meza, Daniel S Passerman, 2011-03-20 Scientific evidence based medicine is increasingly seen as fundamental to providing effective healthcare but narrative based medicine sheds light on social and interpersonal aspects of the practitioner patient interaction which can also greatly affect healthcare outcomes The philosophies underlying these two approaches seem to contrast yet those who can integrate both into their practice are among the most successful medical professionals Integrating Narrative Medicine and Evidence based Medicine provides answers to the key question of how medical practitioners can best put both approaches into practice It anticipates a future where evidence based practice will be expected of all medical professionals but contends that the integration of a narrative based approach will also be crucial presenting a unique perspective on structuring the patient professional encounter for optimum results It develops a cultural analysis and socio cultural theory of the science of healing and describes an efficient method by which medical practitioners can find and use medical research at the point of care with current technology and skills This addresses the need for translational science moving research into practice identified by the National Institutes of Health This book will be essential reading for educators of medical students and postgraduate trainees behavioral scientists psychologists social scientists working in medical settings and health managers and administrators Medical students and postgraduate trainees will also find it useful in their learning Literature and the Language Arts Edmund J. Farrell, 1997 Toward a Modernist Style:

John Dos Passos Donald Pizer, 2013-10-24 A new appraisal of Dos Passos's work and life Toward a Modernist Style describes both the central currents in his early work and his full participation in literary modernism culminating in his U S A trilogy as well as the relationship of these currents to those of an especially vibrant period in American expression Donald Pizer charts the evolution of Dos Passos's artistic sensibility from its largely conventional expression at the start of the 1920s to the radical formal experimentation of U S A at its close He places this development in Dos Passos's writing in the context of contemporary ideas about art and society Pizer also looks at the important roles that Dos Passos's expatriation and his relationship with Ernest Hemingway played in his work as well as his efforts as a painter and their relationship to his literary art Toward a Modernist Style is both an incisive guide to a major American modernist as well as an exploration of the wider currents that created literary modernism in the early twentieth century
