Ethnic Federalism In A Dominant Party State The Ethiopian:

Ethnic Federalism in a Dominant Party State Lovise Aalen,2002 Decentralization, Democracy, and Development in Africa Jan Erk,2018-12-07 Decentralization reforms introduced to Africa in the 1990s have not always delivered the intended long term outcomes This is a collection on the consequences of these reforms two decades on In addition to general and comparative overviews the book contains case studies on Ghana Senegal Zimbabwe Namibia Ethiopia and Uganda The common theme across the chapters is that the reforms seem to have engendered political consequences beyond decentralization itself mostly through interaction with the broader historical political social and economic context The book thus speaks both to the scholarly literature on decentralization democratization and development and to the community of development practitioners Most of the literature on decentralization and development emphasizes questions of institutional design and policy but here the harder to pin down political patterns marking the workings of decentralization are the main focus of analysis The debates on development through the case studies are connected to the scholarly literatures on comparative federalism comparative decentralization and local democracy The main conclusion that emerges from the studies in the book is that no magic formula that can turn countries into peaceful stable and prosperous democracies overnight exists Furthermore there are risks involved in importing formal institutions without regard to the local historical political social and economic context The chapters of this book were originally published as a special issue in Regional and Federal Studies Decentralization and Constitutionalism in Africa Charles M. Fombad,Nico Steytler,2019-09-10 This collection of essays assesses the efforts of African governments to constitutionalise decentralisation be it in the form of federalism local government or traditional authorities Since the end of the Cold War jurisdictions across Africa have witnessed an ostensible return to multi party democracy within the paradigm of constitutionalism and the rule of law Linked to the democratisation process many countries took steps to decentralize power by departing from the heavily centralized systems inherited from colonial regimes The centralization of power typically characterized by the personalization and concentration of power in the hands of leaders and privileged elites in capital cities mostly resulted in repressive regimes and fragile states As decentralisation is a response to these challenges this volume analyses the dynamic relationship between the efforts to implement decentralization and presence or absence of constitutionalism This volume examines a variety of forms and degrees of decentralization found across Africa It advances a new understanding of trends and patterns and facilitates the exchange of ideas among African governments and scholars about the critical role that decentralisation may play in democratization of and constitutionalism in Africa Fiscal Federalism in the Ethiopian Ethnic-based Federal System Solomon Negussie,2006 Federalism and the Accommodation of Diversity in Ethiopia Assefa Fiseha,2006
Journal of Ethiopian law ,2009 Freedom of Expression and Social Movements in the Digital Era Elsabet Samuel Tadesse,2025-11-01 The book discusses the 2015 Oromo protest as a social movement that brought about new practices and new actors to the exercise of freedom of expression and information through its use of the Internet as an alternative communication platform and a site of political resistance. It is based on empirical data to analyze how collective movements, identity politics and the Internet interacted and resulted in government change in contexts where draconian regimes operate and access to the Internet is minimal and expensive. The book scrutinizes the genesis and trajectories of the Oromo protest to provide insights into the diffusion of protest tactics learned from other domestic and global movements. It also introduces peculiar mass mobilization and communication tactics the Oromo protest utilized to establish a shared vision between the urban digital activists and the rural offline protesters.

War & the Politics of Identity in Ethiopia Kjetil Tronvoll, 2009. Examines war and the impact of warfare on identity formation in Ethiopia. Images of war narratives of suffering and notions of ethnicity are intrinsically linked to Western perceptions of Africa. Filtered through a mostly international media, the information of African wars is confined to narrow categories of explanation emerging from and adapted to a Western history and political culture. This book aims at reversing this process to look at war and suffering from the point of view of those who fight it and suffer through it. In doing so, it reveals that the simplistic models explaining contemporary wars in Africa which are reproduced in a Western discourse are basically false. This book examines the understanding of war and the impact of warfare on the formation and conceptualisation of identities in Ethiopia. Building on historical trajectories of enemy images, the recent Eritrean-Ethiopian war 1998-2000 is used as an empirical backdrop to explore war's formative impact by analysing politics of identity and shifting perceptions of enemies and allies. KJETIL TRONVOLL is Professor in Human Rights, Peace and Conflict Studies at the Norwegian Centre for Human Rights, University of Oslo. His other publications include Brothers at War: Making Sense of the Eritrean-Ethiopian War (co-author James Currey, Ohio University Press, 2000) and The Ethiopian Red Terror: Trials, Transitional Justice Challenged (co-editor James Currey, 2009).

Reconfiguring Ethiopia: The Politics of Authoritarian Reform Jon Abbink, Tobias Hagmann, 2016-04-22. This book takes stock of political reform in Ethiopia and the transformation of Ethiopian society since the adoption of multi-party politics and ethnic federalism in 1991. Decentralization, attempted democratization via ethno-national representation and partial economic liberalization have reconfigured Ethiopian society and state in the past two decades. Yet, as the contributors to this volume demonstrate, democracy in Ethiopia has not changed the authority structures and the culture of centralist decision-making of the past. The political system is tightly engineered and controlled from top to bottom by the ruling Ethiopian Peoples Revolutionary Democratic Front (EPRDF). Navigating between its 1991 announcements to democratise the country and its aversion to power sharing, the EPRDF has established a de facto one-party state that enjoys considerable international support. This ruling party has embarked upon a technocratic developmental state trajectory ostensibly aimed at depoliticizing national policy and delegitimizing alternative courses. The contributors analyze the dynamics of authoritarian state building, political ethnicity, electoral politics and state-society relations that have marked the Ethiopian polity since the downfall of the socialist Derg regime. Chapters on ethnic federalism revolutionary democracy opposition parties the press the judiciary state religion and state foreign donor relations provide the most comprehensive and thought provoking review of contemporary Ethiopian national politics to date This book is based on a special issue of the Journal of Eastern African Studies The Processes and Dynamics of Pastoralist Representation in Ethiopia Sarah Lister,2004 Neoliberalism, Civil Society and Security in Africa Pádraig Risteard Carmody,2007-10-17 Free market policies have been in operation across Africa for the past twenty five years yet they have failed to reverse deepening poverty on the continent This book explores why such policies continue to be implemented despite their failure and the ways in which they have been reinvented by socialization depoliticization regionalization and securitization The impacts of these policies on security are traced through case studies of Ethiopia Zimbabwe and South Africa and ways to transcend neoliberalism on the continent are also explored Federalism and Accommodation of Diversities Mengistu Arefaine,2005 African Journal of Political Science ,2004 The Journal of Oromo Studies ,2008 State Recognition and Democratization in Sub-Saharan Africa Lars Buur,Helene Maria Kyed,2007-11-15 State Recognition and Democractization in Sub Saharan Africa explores the link between liberal style democratization and state recognition of traditional authority in Sub Saharan Africa Being critical and empirically grounded the book explores the complex often counter balancing consequences of the involvement of traditional authority in the wave of democratization and liberal style state building that has rolled over sub Saharan Africa in the past decade It scrutinizes how in practice traditional leaders are being drawn into governance in Mozambique Zambia Namibia Malawi Burkina Faso and the Somali region of Ethiopia and relates these developments to state governance in the declining democracy of Zimbabwe and the emerging state of Northern Somalia Proceedings of the Second International Conferecne [sic] on the Ethiopian Economy ,2005 Arrested Development in Ethiopia Seyoum Y. Hameso,Mohammed Hassen,2006 Exploring the oppressive mechanism used by the Ethiopian state to suppress the creative talents of its subjects these essays depict not only the lack of respect for basic human rights in Ethiopia but also the denial of the people s right to freely determine the governance of their choice and the pace of their socio economic progress The contributors passionately believe that the problems facing the Ethiopian people are neither inevitable nor insurmountable instead they offer hope and solutions bound in an impassioned critique of current injustice Electoral Politics, Decentralized Governance, and Constitutionalism in Ethiopia ,2007 Ethiopia Since the Derg Siegfried Pausewang,Kjetil Tronvoll,Lovise Aalen,2002 This is the first overall assessment of the democratic pretensions and performance of the post DERG regime in Ethiopia Ethiopia Merera Gudina,2003
