decision making not in a nebulous philosophical space but at the point where the rubber meets the road Michael Schur producer and creator of The Good Place It's not your imagination we're living in a time of moral decline Publicly we're bombarded with reports of government leaders acting against the welfare of their constituents companies prioritizing profits over health safety and our best interests and technology posing risks to society with few or no repercussions for those responsible Personally we may be conflicted about how much privacy to afford our children on the internet how to make informed choices about our purchases and the companies we buy from or how to handle misconduct we witness at home and at work How do we find a way forward Today's ethical challenges are increasingly gray often without a clear right or wrong solution causing us to teeter on the edge of effective decision making With concentrated power structures rapid advances in technology and insufficient regulation to protect citizens and consumers ethics are harder to understand than ever But in The Power of Ethics Susan Liautaud shows how ethics can be used to create a sea change of positive decisions that can ripple outward to our families communities workplaces and the wider world offering unprecedented opportunity for good Drawing on two decades as an ethics advisor guiding corporations and leaders academic institutions nonprofit organizations and students in her Stanford University ethics courses Susan Liautaud provides clarity to blurry ethical questions walking you through a straightforward four step process for ethical decision making you can use every day Liautaud also explains the six forces driving virtually every ethical choice we face Exploring some of today's most challenging ethics dilemmas and showing you how to develop a clear point of view speak out with authority make effective decisions and contribute to a more ethical world for yourself and others The Power of Ethics is the must have ethics guide for the 21st century Catastrophe Ethics Travis Rieder, 2024-03-05 How to live a morally decent life in the midst of today's constant complex choices In a world of often confusing and terrifying global problems how should we make choices in our everyday lives Does anything on the individual level really make a difference In Catastrophe Ethics Travis Rieder tackles the moral philosophy puzzles that bedevil us He explores vital ethical concepts from history and today and offers new ways to think about the right thing to do when the challenges we face are larger and more complex than ever before Alongside a lively tour of traditional moral reasoning from thinkers like Plato Mill and Kant Rieder posits new questions and exercises about the unique conundrums we now face issues that can seem to transcend old fashioned philosophical ideals Should you drink water from a plastic bottle or not Drive an electric car When you learn about the horrors of factory farming should you stop eating meat or other animal products Do small commitments matter or are we being manipulated into acting certain ways by corporations and media These kinds of puzzles Rieder explains are everywhere now And the tools most of us unthinkingly rely on to do the right thing are no longer enough Principles like do no harm and respect others don't provide guidance in cases where our individual actions don't by themselves have any effect on others at all We need new principles with new justifications in order to navigate this new world In the face of consequential and complex crises Rieder shares exactly how we can live a morally contains eight decision making scenarios For each scenario players have to decide whether to take a collaborative or competitive road scoring points for each of several rounds Points are based on how an individual's choice compares with those of the other players in the group At the end of the game players compare their decisions with the other players The first scenario mirrors the original Prisoner's Dilemma two prisoners are captured and brought in for questioning Each has to decide whether to collaborate which results in a lighter sentence or save their own skin which results in no punishment for one prisoner and a heavy sentence for the other Each of the next seven scenarios introduces additional problems that turn up the heat and force the participants to make increasingly difficult ethical decisions Everyday Ethics Simon

Longstaff, 2017-07-01 Do I buy eggs laid by free range chooks or the cheaper ones from caged birds Do I tell my best friend I saw her boyfriend kissing another girl Do I lie to my mum by telling her I will wear the jumper she bought me even though it's the ugliest jumper in the world Every day our lives are punctuated by points of decision Some of these decisions will be momentous remembered for decades most will go unnoticed by us and by others Yet all our choices matter taken as a whole they shape our lives and contribute to the rhythms of the world In Everyday Ethics Australia's leading authority on ethics Simon Longstaff provides a map to help you better navigate the landscape of daily decisions more ethically Using a broad range of topics and examples to provoke eye opening reflection and discussion Everyday Ethics is a lesson in how even our smallest choices can matter and an empowering guide that will help us discover what is good and what is right Wanted:

Everyday Ethics Phyllis Kae, Phyllis Kae P.I., 2011-05-24 Phyllis Kae's voice captures the energy of ethics She provides us with the essential tools to start building the foundation of a world wherein people will look to each other for help without the fear of being left helpless Phyllis challenges us to do what we all know is right but she does so in a way that makes us want to do it for ourselves and for our families She acknowledges the imperfections in each of us while at the same time encouraging us to learn from our past and carry that knowledge into our future Ethics is a message that has been stored away for too long and it is refreshing to see someone bringing it back to light Responsible Decision Making Laszlo Zsolnai, 2017-07-28 What should I do How should I deal with this How should I behave How should I act we ask ourselves daily But this is only the first part of the sentence while the full sentence is What should I do to achieve such and such for example to complete an assigned task to do well before my boss or a client to be pleased with myself to carry out my plans to make money in the stock market to pass an exam to complete an application etc These and similar questions that people ask consciously or not openly or not are decisions What skills must we master especially when there is a need to make not only elementary decisions but also decisions that affect the existence health and even lives of people First Laszlo Zsolnai writes that we should acquire the skill of gaining knowledge Only then will we stand a chance of reacting to things that are improbable today but could become a fact tomorrow Also essential is the skill of designing i e preparing actions conceptually in order to make decisions before irreversible changes occur Finally it is essential to master the skill of multidimensional judgment within the space defined by effectiveness efficiency and ethics This is Zsolnai s attempt to build a model of making ethical decisions both effectively and efficiently Therefore the model is much broader than purely an analytical framework would be It must tell us how to act rather than limit us to reflection on actions already performed it must combine decision and praxiological analysis of human conduct The proposed model enlarges the scope of the debate and suggests new avenues of both rational and responsible decision making This is an original statement of the crossover of policy and morality

The Good, the Bad & the Difference Randy Cohen, 2003-03-25 The man behind the New York Times Magazine s immensely popular column The Ethicist syndicated in newspapers across the United States and Canada as Everyday Ethics casts an eye on today s manners and mores with a provocative thematic collection of advice on how to be good in the real world Every week in his column on ethics Randy Cohen takes on conundrums presented in letters from perplexed people who want to do the right thing or hope to get away with doing the wrong thing and responds with a skillful blend of moral authority and humor Cohen s wisdom and witticisms have now been collected in The Good the Bad the Difference a collection of his columns as wise and funny as a combination of Dear Abby Plato and Mel Brooks The columns are supplemented with second thoughts on and sometimes complete reversals of his original replies follow up notes on how his advice affected the actions of various letter writers reactions from readers both pro and con and observations from such guest ethicists as David Eggers and the author s mom Each chapter also features an Ethics Pop Quiz and readers will be invited to post their answers on the book s Web site The best of them will appear in a future paperback edition of the book The Good the Bad the Difference is divided into seven sections Civic Life what we do in public Family Life what we do at home Social Life what we do in other people s homes Commercial Life what we do in situations where money is a factor Medical Life the rights and obligations of patients and caregivers Work Life ethics for the professional sphere School Life moral questions from and about kids Each section provides a window into how we live today shedding light on the ways in which a more ethical approach to the decisions we make and to our daily behavior can make a big difference in how we feel about ourselves tomorrow
