Tshuma,Trust Matsilele,2025-11-17 This book takes a critical approach to the rise of Artificial Intelligence AI within the media and communication landscape The book argues that as technology is a social construct reflecting existing power dynamics those in the Global South and in Africa in particular are bound to be marginalised and have their knowledge systems overlooked as the Global North dominates technological developments The birth of AI has ignited debates about its benefits to lower income countries with some highlighting its potential to advance businesses and grow economies However this book argues that AI tools have been produced to serve Western needs and that instead there is a need for countries in Africa to have home grown solutions defined by local values Drawing on case studies and analysis from across the continent the book seeks to caution challenge and proffer solutions to the use and understanding of Generative AI for media and communication in non western societies At a time when generative AI is threatening to shape the future of media and communication around the world this book is a vital and timely contribution to debates within critical data studies and African media studies Exploring the Intersection of Artificial Intelligence and Journalism Santosh Kumar Biswal,Anand J. Kulkarni,2024-02-02 This book studies the role of Artificial Intelligence AI in journalism It traces the origin growth and development of the media and communication industry in the globalized world and discusses the implications of technologies such as Augmented Reality Virtual Reality and Extended Reality which have helped foster a communication revolution across the globe The volume discusses technology centric media theories in the context of AI and examines if AI has been a boon or bane for data journalism It also looks at artificial intelligence in beat reporting and citizen journalism and analyses the social cultural implications of artificial intelligence driven journalism and the ethical concerns arising from it An important contribution this book will be indispensable for students and researchers of media studies communication studies journalism social media technology studies and digital humanities It will also be useful for media professionals

Robots That Love

Judith A. Markowitz, 2025-10-30 In a world of increasingly sophisticated AI the relationship between creator and creation has shifted Robot lovers coexist with humans and the boundaries of emotion and consciousness are blurred This book considers the fundamental challenge of imbuing robots with the capacity to experience love delving into the consequences of loving robots that can only feign reciprocation and philosophical questions about sentience and consciousness Other forms of artificial lovers are also discussed ranging from ChatGPT and Samantha from the 2013 film Her to a variety of sex dolls monsters golems and romanceable characters in dating simulation games Such entities encompass an array of sexual and gender identities as well as gender biases involved in creating the perfect artificial companion and developing AI systems These biases often perpetuated by deep learning algorithms underscore the need for critical reflection amid the evolution of AI
