China Russia Relations In Central Asia Energy Policy Beijings New Assertiveness And 21st Century Geopolitics:

China-Russia Relations in Central Asia Thomas Stephan Eder, 2013-08-13 As China rises to global power status its relations with other major powers including Russia are constantly renegotiated Energy figures prominently in both countries foreign policy An extensive analysis of Chinese language sources academic debate 1997 2012 confirms a collision of interests over Central Asian reserves While unanimous appeals to compromise render previous predictions of impending confrontation unconvincing descriptions of Sino Central Asian energy relations as central to energy security and the explicit rejection of a Russian sphere of influence also exclude a retreat In the long term China will likely replace Russia as the dominant force in Central Asia s energy sector causing the Kremlin to perceive another encroachment The current notion of a strategic partnership will inevitably be challenged

Russia, China and the Geopolitics of Energy in Central Asia Alexandros Petersen, Katinka Barysch, 2011 Russia is the world s biggest hydrocarbon producer China is one of the world s largest and fastest growing energy markets The two are neighbours Yet their energy relationship is very thin Instead they compete for vast and largely unexplored Central Asian resources As Kazakh oil and Turkmen gas start flowing to China Russia s traditional dominance in the region is diminishing However the Central Asian states are not passive pawns in a new great game The EU and the US can help these countries to turn the new energy geopolitics to their advantage

China, Russia, and Twenty-First Century Global Geopolitics Paul J. Bolt, Sharyl N. Cross, 2018-02-09 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the Chinese Russian bilateral relationship grounded in a historical perspective and discusses the implications of the burgeoning strategic partnership between these two major powers for world order and global geopolitics The volume compares the national worldviews priorities and strategic visions for the Chinese and Russian leadership examining several aspects of the relationship in detail The energy trade is the most important component of economic ties although both sides desire to broaden trade and investments In the military realm Russia sells advanced arms to China and the two countries engage in regular joint exercises Diplomatically these two Eurasian powers take similar approaches to conflicts in Ukraine and Syria and also cooperate on non traditional security issues including preventing coloured revolutions cyber management and terrorism These issue areas illustrate four themes Russia and China have common interests that cement their partnership including security protecting authoritarian institutions and re shaping aspects of the global order They are key players not only influencing regional issues but also international norms and institutions The Sino Russian partnership presents a potential counterbalance to the United States and democratic nations in shaping the contemporary and emerging geopolitical landscape Nevertheless the West is still an important partner for China and Russia Both seek better relations with the West but on the basis of mutual respect and equality Lastly Russia and China have frictions in their relationship and not all of their interests overlap The Sino Russian relationship has gained considerable momentum particularly since 2014 as Moscow turned to Beijing attempting to offset tensions with the West in the aftermath of Russia's annexation of Crimea and intervention in Ukraine However so far China and Russia describe their relationship as a comprehensive strategic partnership but they are not allies

Axis of Convenience Bobo Lo, 2009-08-01 Few relationships have been as misunderstood as the strategic partnership between Russia and China Official rhetoric portrays it as the very model of international cooperation Moscow and Beijing claim that ties are closer and warmer than at any time in history In reality however the picture is highly ambiguous While both sides are committed to multifaceted engagement cooperation is complicated by historical suspicions cultural prejudices geopolitical rivalries and competing priorities For Russia China is at once the focus of a genuine convergence of interests and the greatest long term threat to its national security For China Russia is a key supplier of energy and weapons but is frequently dismissed as a self important power whose rhetoric far outstrips its real influence

Axis of Convenience cuts through the mythmaking and examines the Sino Russian partnership on its own merits It steers between the overblown interpretation of an anti Western particularly anti American alliance and the complacent assumption that past animosities and competing agendas must always divide the two nations Their relationship reflects a new geopolitics one that eschews formal alliances in favor of more flexible and opportunistic arrangements Ultimately it is an axis of convenience driven by cold eyed perceptions of the national interest In evaluating the current state and future prospects of the relationship Bobo Lo assesses its impact on the evolving strategic environments in Central and East Asia He also analyzes the global implications of rapprochement between Moscow and Beijing focusing in particular on the geopolitics of energy and Russia China U S triangularism

China's Western Horizon Daniel Markey, 2020-02-03 Under the ambitious leadership of President Xi Jinping China is zealously transforming its wealth and economic power into potent tools of global political influence But China's foreign policy initiatives even the vaunted Belt and Road will be shaped and redefined as they confront the ground realities of local and regional politics outside China In China's Western Horizon Daniel S Markey a scholar of international relations and former member of the U S State Department's policy planning staff previews how China's efforts are likely to play out along its western horizon across the swath of Eurasia that includes South Asia Central Asia and the Middle East Drawing from extensive interviews travels and historical research Markey describes how perceptions of China vary widely within states such as Pakistan Kazakhstan and Iran Powerful and privileged groups across the region often expect to profit from their connections to China while others fear commercial and political losses Similarly Eurasian statesmen are scrambling to harness China's energy purchases arms sales and infrastructure investment These leaders are working with China in order to outdo their strategic competitors including India and Saudi Arabia and simultaneously negotiating relations with Russia and America On balance Markey anticipates that China's deepening involvement will play to the advantage of regional strongmen and exacerbate the political tensions within and among Eurasian states To make the most of America's limited influence in China's backyard and elsewhere he argues that U.S. policymakers should pursue a selective and localized strategy to serve America's specific aims in Eurasia and to better compete with China over the long run Russia, Eurasia and the New Geopolitics of Energy Roger E. Kanet, Matthew Sussex, 2015-10-05 By combining perspectives from experts in domestic politics regional politics and specialists in international security this edited volume focuses on the central role of energy production and supply in the Russian Western completion across Eurasia China's Energy Geopolitics Thrassy N. Marketos, 2008-11-21 China's need for energy has become a driving factor in contemporary world politics and a precondition for sustaining China's continuing high economic growth Accordingly Chinese energy policy has been a political and strategic rather than market driven policy This book focuses on the need of a stable and secure investment environment which is necessary for the energy provision of China from the Central Asian states The author argues that the institutionalization of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization S C O the Friendship and Cooperation Treaty between Russia and China and Chinese bilateral agreements with individual Central Asian states present an avenue and a framework of stability in which pipeline construction can commence With the backing of the US in the aftermath of the September 11 2001 terrorist attacks Chinese involvement in the region has now been expanding However in order to stabilize the region for Chinese investment in energy resources the author states that the US needs to be present in the region and that a strategic framework of cooperation between Russia China and the US has to be developed The book will be of interest to academics working in the field of International Security International Relations and Central Asian and Chinese politics The Future of China-Russia Relations James A. Bellacqua, 2010-02-05 Relations between China and Russia have evolved dramatically since their first diplomatic contact particularly during the twentieth century During the past decade China and Russia have made efforts to strengthen bilateral ties and improve cooperation on a number of diplomatic fronts The People's Republic of China and the Russian Federation maintain exceptionally close and friendly relations strong geopolitical and regional cooperation and significant levels of trade In The Future of China Russia Relations scholars from around the world explore the current state of the relationship between the two powers and assess the prospects for future cooperation and possible tensions in the new century The contributors examine Russian and Chinese perspectives on a wide range of issues including security political relationships economic interactions and defense ties This collection explores the energy courtship between the two nations and analyzes their interests and policies regarding Central Asia the Korean Peninsula and Taiwan Russia and China Michal Lubina, 2017-10-23 This book depicts the sophisticated relationship between Russia and China as a pragmatic one a political marriage of convenience Yet at the same time the relationship is stable and will remain so After all bilateral relations are usually based on pragmatic interests and the pursuit of these interests is the very essence of foreign policy And as often happens in life the most long lasting marriages are those based on convenience The highly complex complicated ambiguous and yet indeed successful relationship between Russia and China throughout the past 25 years is difficult to grasp theoretically Russian and Chinese elites are hard core realists in their foreign policies and the neorealist school in international relations seems to be the most adequate one to research Sino Russian relations Realistically throughout this period China achieved a multidimensional advantage over Russia Yet simultaneously Russia China relations do not follow the patterns of power politics Beijing knows its limits and does not go into extremes Rather China successfully seeks to build a longterm stable relationship based on Chinese terms where both sides gain albeit China gains a little more Russia in this agenda does not necessary lose just gains a little less out of this asymmetric deal Thus a new model of bilateral relations emerges which may be called by paraphrasing the slogan of Chinese diplomacy as asymmetric win win formula This model is a kind of back to the past a contemporary equivalent of the first model of Russia China relations the modus vivendi from the 17th century achieved after the Nerchinsk treaty

Rekindling the Strong State in Russia and China, 2020-04-20 Rekindling the Strong State in Russia and China offers a thorough analysis of the profound regeneration of the State and its intense interaction with the external projections of Russia and China In the international political scene leaderships are under constant negotiation Financial crisis social and cultural transformations values setting and migration flows have a deep impact on global powers leading to the appearance of new actors At present the assumed rise of a new axis between two emerging powers such as Russia and China effaces their different backgrounds leading to misinterpretations of their positioning in the geopolitical arena This book is an essential and multifaceted guide aimed at understanding the deep changes that affect these two countries and their global aspirations Contributors are Marco Puleri Andrea Passeri Marco Balboni Carmelo Danisi Mingjiang Li Mahalakshmi Ganapathy Rosa Mul Olga Dubrovina Evgeny Mironov Yongshun Cai Vasil Sakaev Eugenia Baroncelli Sonia Lucarelli Nicol Fasola Stefano Bianchini Stanislav Tkachenko Vitaly Kozyrev Marco Borraccetti Francesco Privitera Antonio Fiori Massimiliano Trentin Arrigo Pallotti Giuliana Laschi Michael Leigh

Russia and China. Anatomy of a Partnership Aldo Ferrari, Eleonora Tafuro Ambrosetti, 2019-05-27 While the decline of the West is now almost taken for granted China's impressive economic performance and the political influence of an assertive Russia in the international arena are combining to make Eurasia a key hub of political and economic power That certainly is the story which Beijing and Moscow have been telling for years Are the times ripe for a Eurasian world order What exactly does the supposed Sino Russian challenge to the liberal world entail Are the two countries worsening clashes with the West drawing them closer together This ISPI Report tackles every aspect of the apparently solidifying alliance between Moscow and Beijing but also points out its growing asymmetries It also recommends some policies that could help the EU to deal with this Eurasian shift a long term and multi faceted power readjustment that may lead to the end of the world as we have known it

A Wary Embrace: A Lowy Institute Paper: Penguin Special Bobo Lo, 2017-04-03 With Western countries consumed by domestic problems will it be China and Russia that now define the rules of global politics In a disorderly world each has become increasingly assertive and their partnership has emerged from relative obscurity to acquire a new prominence Yet appearances are deceptive Beijing and Moscow have shown no capacity to cooperate on grand strategy or establish new international norms This is no authoritarian alliance but a partnership of strategic convenience pragmatic calculating and constrained
