The Network layer checks whether network connectivity is available to the server supporting the storage zone and reports how long it takes to connect to this server. This way, the sudden unavailability of a storage zone is detected and reported.

The TCP layer indicates whether/not users are able to establish TCP connections to the server quickly. TCP connection drops and a high percentage of TCP retransmissions are captured and reported in the process.

The Application Processes and Windows Service layers periodically check the status of key processes/services supporting the storage zone and alert administrators if any process/service is unavailable or is not running. If users complain that a storage zone is not accessible, then the tests mapped to this layer will provide administrators with
