China S New Silk Road Strategy And Foreign Policy Toward:

China's New Global Strategy Suisheng Zhao, 2020-06-29 Rising as a global power and regarding the existing world order unjust and unreasonable enough to meet the interests of both itself and other emerging powers China has demanded reform to global governance and taken new initiatives using its new quotient of wealth and influence to draw countries into its orbit This comprehensive volume focuses on the two most important of these initiatives the Belt and Road Initiative BRI launched in 2013 to strengthen China s connectivity with a large part of the world through infrastructure and economic development and the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank AIIB created in 2015 which represented China s effort in the reconstruction of the international development rules This book explores how these two initiatives are central to China s emerging global strategy The authors examine China s geopolitical and geo economic motivations and domestic political dynamics in launching these two initiatives They also investigate the responses from the major foreign partners involved in both initiatives This book will be of great interest to students academics and researchers of China s emerging global strategy It comprises articles originally published in the Journal of Contemporary China The Routledge Handbook of Diplomacy and Statecraft B.J.C. McKercher, 2022-01-30 Reflecting the profound changes in international society in the past decade and the challenges that all Powers diplomacy and statecraft face whether opposing or encouraging these changes this fully revised and updated edition provides a unique multifaceted assessment by experts of the new international order Built around the thesis that Great Power rivalry dominated after the end of the Cold War it examines how this multi polarity has become more extreme The Handbook assesses the diplomacy and statecraft of individual powers in seven key sections The Context of Diplomacy The Great Powers Middle Powers Developing Powers International Organisations and Military Alliances The International Economy Issues of Conflict and Co operation It shows how diplomacy and statecraft have transformed on issues such as the evolving America First strategy the strengthening of the People s Republic of China the growth of non state actors in foreign policy the unravelling of international arms control agreements the aggressive nature of Russian foreign policy and the emergence of major armed conflicts and the rise of terrorism and armed insurgencies around the world It will be of interest to government and non governmental actors established scholars and students in the fields of international relations history and military studies Chinese Foreign Relations Robert G. Sutter, 2020-10-30 With new assertiveness and prominence China under President Xi Jinping is rightly considered an emerging and aggressive superpower backed by growing economic and impressive military strength In this meticulous and balanced assessment Robert G Sutter traces China s actions under Xi Jinping including the many challenges they post to the international status quo He provides a comprehensive analysis of newly prominent Chinese unconventional levers of power and influence in foreign affairs that were previously disguised hidden denied or otherwise neglected or unappreciated by specialists Sutter considers the domestic issues that preoccupy Beijing and the global factors economic and political factors that complicate and constrain as well as enhance China's advance to international prominence Reconciliation, Conflict Transformation, and Peace Studies Iyad Muhsen AlDajani, Martin Leiner, 2024-10-01 This book achieved in cooperation with the Academic Alliance for Reconciliation Studies in the Middle East and North Africa AARMENA focuses on peacebuilding conflict transformation and shifts toward approaching the reconciliation process as an inter trans and multidisciplinary field The research presented in the series focuses on the Middle East and North Africa highlighting contributions by practitioners and scholars alike The book is divided into five sections Section 1 Theoretical and Philosophical Framework Section 2 Digital Humanities on Reconciliation Conflict Transformation and Peace Studies Section 3 Research Science on Reconciliation Conflict Transformation and Peace Studies Section 4 Practices of Studies on Reconciliation Conflict Transformation and Peace Studies Section 5 Cases Studies on Reconciliation Conflict Transformation and Peace Studies The book's first part focuses on theories and the philosophical framework for the research on reconciliation conflict transformation and peace studies The second part of the book is dedicated to digital humanities development in the reconciliation and peace education field its impact on the reconciliation process in societies and the introduction of Artificial Intelligence in analysis techniques to differentiate and identify research in different domains The book's third part is dedicated to the research on reconciliation and conflict transformation in different disciplines The fourth part concentrates on the practices in the field and the fifth part illustrates case studies on reconciliation conflict transformation and peace studies The target audience is professors scholars practitioners students and scientists that are experts in the field of Middle East and North Africa The Great Power Competition Volume 1 Adib Farhadi, Anthony J. Masys, 2021-06-22 Over the past decade the international political system has come to be characterized as a Great Power Competition in which multiple would be hegemons compete for power and influence Instead of a global climate of unchallenged United States dominance revisionist powers notably China and Russia alongside other regional powers are vying for dominance through political military and economic means A critical battleground in the Great Power Competition is the Middle East the Horn of Africa and the Central Asia South Asia CASA also known as the Central Region With the planned withdrawal of U S military forces from Afghanistan the U S has stated its intention of shifting attention away from the CASA Region in favor of a more isolationist foreign policy approach This book provides an in depth understanding of the implications for this shift related to regional diplomacy politics economic opportunities rivalries security considerations interests and the information environment Amplifying the vital importance of success in the Central Region to U S prosperity and security this volume advances dialogue in identifying key issues for stakeholders within and beyond the Central Region to gain a holistic perspective that better informs decision making at various levels This collection of work comes from scholars strategic thinkers and subject matter experts who participated in the Great Power Competition Conference hosted by the University of South Florida in partnership with the National Defense University Near East South Asia Center for Strategic Strategies in January 2020 China's Grand Strategy Sarwar A.

Kashmeri, In the Great Game of the 21st century gaining leadership and influence in Asia the United States is rapidly being outflanked by China which is investing in infrastructure connectivity and supply chains on an unprecedented global scale In this first book to use China's Belt and Road Initiative previously known as China's New Silk Road as a point of departure to explain why and how China is about to supersede America with regard to influence in Asia Sarwar Kashmeri argues that the United States has a narrow window of opportunity to find a way to fit into a world in which the rules of the game are increasingly set by China U S opposition to the Belt and Road Initiative is doomed to failure so America must find creative ways to engage China strategically and he warns that the window to do so is closing fast The Belt and Road Initiative is China's ambitious project to connect itself to more than 70 countries in Central Asia Europe Africa and the Middle East through new roads rails ports sea lanes and air links This cornerstone of Chinese foreign policy under President Xi Jinping is positioning China at the center of over half of world trade and the loss of American influence and power could well lead to the end of the postwar liberal world order Far more than merely an infrastructure investment the Belt and Road Initiative is a masterful grand strategy to create nothing less than a new world order based on the Chinese model of government and its financial institutions Yet as the passing of the baton of world leadership takes place the United States seems curiously incapable or uninterested in devising a counterstrategy Even though the United States will no longer have the largest economy in the world it will still be a powerful and rich country with global alliances

India and Central Asia in the Post-Cold War Era Saroj Kumar Aryal, 2024-11-29 This book analyses the evolution of India's foreign policy towards Central Asia after the end of the Cold War Focusing on the development of India's foreign policy towards Central Asia between 1991 and 2020 this book investigates the explanatory and intervening variables of the policy towards the region to identify its goals assumptions motivations and instruments The preliminary assumption is that India's foreign policy towards Central Asia has evolved after the Cold War from a passive approach to an active participant in Central Asian security economic and socio cultural spheres This is also seen due to the emergence of the five Central Asian countries as independent states which have a tremendous strategic significance due to their geographical location huge hydrocarbon reserve and potential economic opportunities India expanded its policy to the Extended Neighbourhood adding East Central and West Asia to the existing South Asian neighbourhood Since then India has been engaging with the region considering the growing geostrategic and geo economic significance of the region and using the available foreign policy instruments This book presents a comprehensive assessment of India's foreign policy behaviour evolution with proper analysis of the explanatory external and intervening internal variables that influence India's behaviours towards the region It shows that India also aims to be a very influential power in Central Asia This book will be an excellent resource for students and researchers of area and global studies international relations Asian Politics and South and Central Asia The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No

Dynamic Lowell Dittmer,George T. Yu,2010 With China s rise as a major player in international affairs how have its policies toward developing countries changed And how do those policies now fit with its overall foreign policy goals This book explores the complexities of China s evolving relationship with the developing world China's New Silk Road Dreams Noesselt Nele,2021-11-30 The contributions compiled in this issue engage in critical evaluation of China s New Silk Road initiative Belt and Road Initiative BRI by focusing on the potential long term political and economic effects and implications for Sino EUropean and Sino African relations The authors take the launching of the BRI October 2013 as a starting point for a general theory guided qualitative re evaluation of the basic patterns of Chinese foreign relations and global interactions under the fifth generation of Chinese political leaders In 2013 the Chinese state president Xi Jinping framed BRI as a global connectivity network consisting of a multitude of overland passages and maritime transportation corridors Xi Jinping s report to the 19th Party Congress 2017 set the BRI as an anchor concept of China s fine tuned foreign strategy in the 21st century

Effects of China's New Silk Road on the Participating Economies Natasa Stanojevic,2020-11-10 After two decades of rapid economic growth based on export and foreign investments inflow a major shift in the economic strategy of China was made in 2001 A set of basic principles was called Go Global The focus shifted from exports as a driver of economic growth to domestic consumption and from FDI inflow to FDI outflow due to the need to place surplus capital Go Global strategy has transformed China from a participant to one of the main promoters of globalization Although the 2013 New Silk Road was presented as a new global project it was actually just a new name brand for the basic principles adopted under the Go Global strategy China had started intensive economic and diplomatic activity long before it was launched The New Silk Road has only given shape to the part of China s development strategy for the 21st century that refers to foreign policy and economic relations with foreign countries Today the New Silk Road or Belt and Road Initiative BRI as it was later called is the most dynamic and unique segment of the globalization process After two decades of setting up and starting the implementation of the new China s development strategy there is enough information for providing an initial assessment of its effects The assessment of costs and benefits of the countries along the New Silk Road corridors is the main subject of the book The analysis of these topics has the form of a regional approach and it is divided in four chapters related to Central Asia South Asia Middle East and Balkan Within each region the scope and sectoral distribution of Chinese FDI are analyzed and the compliance of FDI with the needs of the domestic economy i e their development potential is assessed The effects of the BRI are not only visible in the case of investments but China s economic penetration into a certain area also brings significant changes in the field of foreign trade of the host country The next topic refers to the attitudes of the dominant powers in the analyzed regions towards China s economic penetration into the area they consider their zone of interest Russia India and
