China's Education Aid to Africa Wei Ye, 2023-05-31 China's rise as an aid provider in Africa has caught global attention with China's activity being viewed as the projection of soft power of a neo colonialist kind in an international relations context. This book which focuses on China's education aid government scholarships training Confucius Institutes dispatched teachers etc reveals a much more complicated picture. It outlines how the divide between the Chinese Ministry of Commerce and the Ministry of Education hinders China's soft power projection how much of China's aid is bound up with an education for economic growth outlook mirroring China's own recent experiences of economic development and how China's aid prioritized to reflect the commercial sector's interests is out of step with most international development aid which is dominated by education agendas and the campaigns of international organizations and traditional donors. This leaves China easily exposed to the charge of neo colonialism. This situation also reveals insufficient knowledge production of China and in South South Cooperation. Substantial production of Southern knowledge should recognize the international development cooperation architecture as an open system by which both traditional donors and Southern countries transform. China's Foreign Policy Andrea Benvenuti, Chien-Peng Chung, Nicholas Khoo, Andrew Tan, 2022-05-15 This volume explains China's foreign policy from the perspective of its historical recovery after 1949 and the country's subsequent rise as a great power including its transformation into a global power. It also illuminates how China has in tandem with its rise developed an increasing array of political economic sharp power and military capabilities that is helping it to further its increasingly expansive foreign policy objectives. The volume examines two key questions: What have been the implications of China's rise for its foreign policy? And how has an increasingly powerful and confident China used a range of foreign policy instruments to pursue its expanding national interests in Asia and beyond? The volume is divided into three parts covering the conceptualization and drivers of China's foreign policy, China's relations with the world and the instruments of China's foreign policy namely its economic power military capabilities and its sharp power manipulation of information and relationships. It will be of interest to academics students and researchers interested in understanding China's role in world politics.

China's Soft Power and Higher Education in South Asia Romi Jain, 2021-05-17 This empirical work illuminates how China uses the higher education mechanism in South Asia to advance its national interests and investigates the outcomes for China including both challenges and opportunities. Using a soft power theoretical framework this book employs the case study of Nepal a South Asian country of profound geostrategic value for the two competing powers of China and India. Illustrating how higher education is the mechanism for achieving soft power goals it draws on data analysis based on archival sources and interviews with China and South Asia experts including academics and politico bureaucratic elites as well as interviews with Nepalese students and alumni. Importantly though this book advances an innovative conceptual model of geointellect to trace the evolving dimensions of China's global dominance in higher education research and innovation.

paradigm especially in the context of the Belt and Road Initiative and ultimately reveals how foreign policy and higher education policy reinforce each other in the context of China's Soft Power and Higher Education in South Asia provides an empirically rich resource for students and scholars of education international relations Asian studies and China's soft power

Mapping International Student Mobility Between Africa and China Benjamin Mulvey, 2023-12-27 This book examines an emergent pattern of international student mobility that of international students from across the African continent who are enrolled on degree programmes at Chinese universities China is among the most popular destination countries for African students yet there has been little research to date into this emergent mobility pattern Drawing on data from a series of interviews the book focuses on the specific modalities of integration into the global economy of both the sending region and the host country and examines how these shape the decision making experiences and future aspirations of mobile students It also highlights how incipient flows of international student migrants such as those between various African countries and China are calling into question a number of the axioms around the study of international study mobility that were developed with reference to more established migration patterns which tend to flow from other regions to the West These include for example the idea that international students are generally privileged members of the global middle class who seek an education abroad as part of a strategy to accumulate cultural capital and reproduce social privilege This novel work is of interest to researchers in human geography sociology development studies migration studies and particularly those studying China Africa relations
