Leadership and Strategic Management Paolo Boccadelli, Federica Brunetta, 2024-05-01 Managers are facing unprecedented complexity, volatility and ambiguity, quickly adapting their decision-making, leadership vision and strategies. Megatrends and forces of change have profound implications for business models, processes and organizational structures, calling into question current paradigms and designing future change. Additionally, unprecedented disruptions, unforecastable in their nature, have increased the need for resilience and strategic flexibility. The book aims at tackling the potential interrelations among environmental transformations, strategic decisions and leadership to better understand the role of external and internal factors on the effectiveness of managers. The book defines change, its extent, nature and characteristics. Then it focuses on decision-making.

the role of potential cognitive biases and how the interaction with the perception of determined environmental events affects the way in which decision makers decide to implement specific strategies Finally in the light of waves of strategic change it reviews theories on leadership and transformation by looking at the role and traits of leaders Since environmental transformations have the potential to disrupt not only strategies but also decision making processes and leadership the book provides a review on the issue and propose an integrative framework which can be useful for both scholars and managers especially in the fields of decision making and strategy
