The course focuses on understanding how economic events such as operating activities, corporate investments, and financing transactions are recorded in the three main financial statements (i.e., the income statement, balance sheet, and statement of cash flows). The main emphasis of this course is placed on the basic framework of accounting so as to provide the student with an understanding of the fundamental accounting principles and concepts. A heavy reliance will be placed on problem solving and practical analyses to achieve the aforementioned level of understanding. Students will develop the technical skills needed to analyze financial statements and disclosures for use in financial analysis. Students will also learn how accounting standards and managerial incentives affect the financial reporting process. The tools and skills you learn in this course will help you throughout your professional career and your life.

COURSE PREREQUISITE(S)
The course is recommended for students with little or no prior background in financial accounting that want to improve their financial literacy. There are no academic prerequisites for the course.
