- Provide a framework for thinking about public policy issues from a competition perspective
 - What is the likely competitive impact?
 - How will this affect consumers?
 - Any legitimate justifications to restrict competition?
 - Are there less restrictive alternatives?

Advocacy And Competition Policy:

The Limits of Competition Policy A. E. Rodriguez, Ashok Menon, 2010-01-01 What the authors offer is a thoroughgoing analysis clearly demonstrating that whatever economic path developing countries pursue imposing Western style antitrust regimes will engender uncertainty chill economic behaviour and foster an unhealthy climate for business They employ the influential error cost methodology to appraise the performance of competition policy and to show how such a policy creates irresolvable tensions in fragile economies with weak institutions economies characterized by informal rules of business practice long standing symbiotic business state relationships and unpredictable state action They mount a powerful critique of the arguments of neo institutionalists who fail to recognize the vulnerable nature of emerging market economies and competition advocates who presume to stand ready and vigilant to enforce competition policy on state entities Ex Post

Economic Evaluation of Competition Policy Fabienne Ilzkovitz, 2020-05-18 Competition authorities are increasingly interested in understanding the impact of their activities on markets and consumers The goal is to improve competition policy rules and decision making practices and to get robust evidence on the benefits of competition and competition policy for society as a whole Discussions with competition authorities practitioners and academics have shown the need to take stock of the experience gained in this field by the European Commission and to present it in an easily accessible way The studies collected in this volume prepared by senior Commission officials and competition policy experts range from the ex post evaluation of specific policy interventions to the assessment of the broader impact of competition policy The issues and topics examined include the following objectives and scope of evaluations by the European Commission description of counterfactual evaluation techniques used conditions for a successful ex post evaluation of a competition policy intervention a wide selection of individual cases covering a variety of economic sectors applications in merger control antitrust and State aid direct benefits of competition policy interventions for consumers deterrent effects of such interventions on market participants and macroeconomic outcomes in terms of job creation productivity and GDP growth This matchless book assembles within a single volume all that is needed for competition policy analysts and practitioners to undertake ex post economic evaluations While its collection of state of the art ex post evaluation studies has a clear value for competition authorities it is sure to be welcomed as well by competition law practitioners in the private sector who will greatly appreciate the effort made to cast a critical eye on decisions taken in the past Moreover it allows for addressing some of the new challenges facing competition policymakers Fabienne Ilzkovitz is Principal Advisor responsible for the economic evaluation of competition policy within the Directorate General for Competition of the European Commission and since 2014 she has coordinated various ex post evaluation projects in the Directorate General She is also Associate Professor of Economics in the Solvay Brussels School of Economics and Management at the Universit Libre de Bruxelles Belgium Adriaan Dierx is Senior Expert on ex post economic evaluation within the Directorate General for Competition of the European Commission He has managed a number of studies aimed at assessing the economic impact of the European Commission's competition policy interventions OECD Journal of Competition Law and Policy, 2009 Research Handbook on Methods and Models of Competition Law Deborah Healey, Michael Jacobs, Rhonda L. Smith, 2020-11-27 This comprehensive Handbook illuminates the objectives and economics behind competition law. It takes a global comparative approach to explore competition law and policy in a range of jurisdictions with differing political economies, legal systems and stages of development. A set of expert international contributors examine the operation and enforcement of competition law around the world in order to globalize discussions surrounding the foundational issues of this topic. In doing so, they not only reveal the range of approaches to competition law but also identify certain basic economic concepts and types of anticompetitive conduct that are at the core of competition law. The Oxford Handbook of the South African Economy Arkebe Oqubay, Fiona Tregenna, Imraan Valodia, 2021-11-18 While sharing some characteristics with other middle income countries, South Africa is a country with a unique economic history and distinctive economic features. It is a regional economic powerhouse that plays a significant role not only in southern Africa and in the continent but also as a member of BRICS. However, there has been a lack of structural transformation and weak economic growth, and South Africa faces the profound triple challenges of poverty, inequality and unemployment. Any meaningful debate about economic policies to address these challenges needs to be informed by a deep understanding of historical developments, robust empirical evidence and rigorous analysis of South Africa's complex economic landscape. This volume seeks to provide a wide-ranging set of original, detailed and state-of-the-art analytical perspectives that contribute to scientific knowledge as well as to well-informed and productive discourse on the South African economy. While concentrating on the more recent economic issues facing South Africa, the handbook also provides historical and political context. It offers an in-depth examination of strategic issues in the country's key economic sectors and brings together diverse analytical perspectives. Towards the Convergence of Trade and Competition Policy, 2000 European Competition Law Annual 2004 Claus-Dieter Ehlermann, Isabela Atanasiu, 2006-06-02 The European Competition Law Annual 2004 is ninth in a series of volumes following the annual workshops on EU Competition Law and Policy held at the Robert Schuman Centre of the European University Institute in Florence. The volume reproduces the materials of the roundtable debate that took place at the ninth edition of the workshop 11-12 June 2004 which examined the relationship between competition law and the regulation of liberal professions. The liberal professions and the rules governing their functioning have become of interest for EC competition law enforcement since the early nineties, making the object of a series of Commission decisions and judgments of the European courts. The subject has gained in importance in the perspective of the recent decentralisation of EC antitrust enforcement.

The regulation of liberal professions is also a matter of increasing concern from the perspective of freedom of services in the internal market. The workshop participants, a group of senior representatives of the Commission and the national competition authorities of some Member States, renowned international academics and legal practitioners discussed the economic, legal and political institutional issues that arise in the relationship between competition law and the regulation of liberal professions. Toward a National Competition Policy for the Philippines Erlinda M. Authorities in South Eastern Europe Boris Begović, Dušan V. Popović, 2018-07-20 This open access book provides answers to key open questions concerning competition policy in emerging economies with a focus on South Eastern Europe. The contributions address two major issues. One is the design of competition policy and the national competition authorities that enforce it, including the topics of competition advocacy and state aid control. The other is the use of economic methods in competition law enforcement, especially in the cases of relevant market definition and merger control. Many lessons learned in the countries of South Eastern Europe can be applied to the emerging markets of other regions. As such, the findings presented here will be highly relevant for officials and staff at national competition authorities, advisers to legislators, shaping national competition policy, competition law professionals and university students alike. Competition Policy Newsletter, 2007 OECD Journal of Competition Law and Policy Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 1999

The U.S. Federal Trade Commission and Competition Advocacy Todd J. Zywicki, James C. Cooper, 2007 Does EU Merger Control Discriminate against Small Market Companies? Mika Oinonen, 2010-07-20 Although the question posed by the title of this book has generated considerable debate, the essential issue remains open and largely blurred. While some believe that there is no so-called small market problem, others discern discrimination against small market companies, i.e. companies with a strong position in their home markets but a modest position in the European and global markets and a consequent need for changes in competition law. The author of this enormously helpful work here sets the stage for meaningful discussion by analysing the EC Merger Regulation's objectives, economic foundations and application practice to present a reasoned view of the issues that can be considered relevant for such a discussion. Considering their effect on the small market problem, the author scrutinizes such factors as the following: the Commission's methodology for delineating relevant markets in merger assessments; unnecessary prohibition caused by overestimation of the market power of small market mergers; erroneous approval of cases that should actually be prohibited; impact of the so-called Harvard and Chicago schools of competition theory and their key policy implications; process-related alternative views of competition and new synthesizing approaches; relevant criteria for a proper analysis of market power, concentration measures and market shares; barriers to entry; price and profitability analyses and product definition v geographic definition of markets. In a final chapter, the author presents some tentative conclusions, normative in nature, concerning the problem and the relevant issues relating to it. As the first in-depth analysis of the issues that are actually involved with its particular diagnosis of the assessment of market power in considering the relevant issues for the problem this study brings into salience the terms of the debate on the problem and thus takes a giant step forward towards defining what needs to be done Competition lawyers policymakers and academics in Europe and elsewhere will find the discussion of great value A Competition Policy for the WTO Philip Marsden,2003 The book analyse the market implications of the proposals to impose trade rules on competition law enforcement and pro competitive regulation on sectors directly particularly in telecoms and distribution services To prevent business practices from restricting trade governments are considering how best to develop a global framework of competition rules Formal proposals have been made for Members of the World Trade Organisation to undertake binding commitments to ban cartels co operate in international law enforcement and enforce their competition laws in a non discriminatory manner Philip Marsden recommends that the discussion and negotiation of competition rules at the WTO focus on the problem that is most relevant to the interaction of trade and competition policy This is the frequent allegation that competition Authorities are tolerating exclusive business arrangements that appear to exclude competitors and foreign competitors in particular This allegation was at the heart of the Kodak Fuji Film trade case about access to the Japanese market and also underlies a continuing difference of view among trade and competition Authorities particularly on either side of the Atlantic about how successful companies should be allowed to be The Author analyses these differences through a colourful and insightful examination of how the European Commission and the American antitrust Authorities reviewed the Boeing McDonnell Douglas and GE Honeywell mergers OECD Journal of Competition Law & Policy ,2006 Annual Proceedings of the Fordham Corporate Law Institute ,2005 Annual Reports on Competition Policy and on Restrictive Business Practices Legislation and Its Application Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development,1980 Competition Policy in a Global Economy ,1998 New York University Journal of International Law & Politics New York University.
