Algebraic Computability and Enumeration Models Cyrus F. Nourani, 2016-02-24 This book Algebraic Computability and Enumeration Models Recursion Theory and Descriptive Complexity presents new techniques with functorial models to address important areas on pure mathematics and computability theory from the algebraic viewpoint The reader is first introduced to categories and functorial models with Kleene algebra examples Book Catalog of the Library and

Library and Information Services Division, 1977 A Functorial Model Theory Cyrus F.

Nourani, 2016-04-19 This book is an introduction to a functorial model theory based on infinitary language categories The author introduces the properties and foundation of these categories before developing a model theory for functors starting with a countable fragment of an infinitary language He also presents a new technique for generating generic models with categories by inventing infinite language categories and functorial model theory In addition the book covers string models limit models and functorial models Real Algebraic Geometry and Optimization Thorsten Theobald, 2024-04-18 This book provides a comprehensive and user friendly exploration of the tremendous recent developments that reveal the connections between real algebraic geometry and optimization two subjects that were usually taught separately until the beginning of the 21st century Real algebraic geometry studies the solutions of polynomial equations and polynomial inequalities over the real numbers Real algebraic problems arise in many applications including science and engineering computer vision robotics and game theory Optimization is concerned with minimizing or maximizing a given objective function over a feasible set Presenting key ideas from classical and modern concepts in real algebraic geometry this book develops related convex optimization techniques for polynomial optimization The connection to optimization invites a computational view on real algebraic geometry and opens doors to applications Intended as an introduction for students of mathematics or related fields at an advanced undergraduate or graduate level this book serves as a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners Each chapter is complemented by a collection of beneficial exercises notes on references and further reading As a prerequisite only some undergraduate algebra is required The National Union Catalogs, 1963-

, 1964 The Practice of Algebraic Curves David Eisenbud, Joe Harris, 2024-11-09 This textbook provides readers with a working knowledge of the modern theory of complex projective algebraic curves Also known as compact Riemann surfaces such curves shaped the development of algebraic geometry itself making this theory essential background for anyone working in or using this discipline Examples underpin the presentation throughout illustrating techniques that range across classical geometric theory modern commutative algebra and moduli theory The book begins with two chapters covering basic ideas including maps to projective space invertible sheaves and the Riemann Roch theorem Subsequent chapters alternate between a detailed study of curves up to genus six and more advanced topics such as Jacobians Hilbert schemes moduli spaces of curves Severi varieties dualizing sheaves and linkage of curves in 3 space Three chapters treat the refinements of the Brill Noether theorem including applications and a complete proof of the basic result Two chapters on free resolutions rational normal scrolls and canonical curves build context for Green's conjecture The book culminates in a study of Hilbert schemes of curves through examples A historical appendix by Jeremy Gray captures the early development of the theory of algebraic curves Exercises illustrations and open problems accompany the text throughout The Practice of Algebraic Curves offers a masterclass in theory that has become essential in areas ranging from algebraic geometry itself to mathematical physics and other applications Suitable for students and researchers alike the text bridges the gap from a first course in algebraic geometry to advanced literature and active research
