Handbook of Research on Remote Work and Worker Well-Being in the Post-COVID-19 Era Wheatley, Daniel, Hardill, Irene, Buglass, Sarah, 2021-04-16 With the introduction of policies to combat COVID 19 far greater numbers of employees across the globe including those with limited job autonomy have moved to undertake their entire job at home. Although challenging in the current climate embracing these flexible modes of work such as working at home including relevant investment in technology to enable this will not only deliver potential organizational benefits but also increase the adaptability of the labor market in the short and longer terms. Although perhaps not the central concern of many in the current climate good home based work is achievable and perhaps even a solution to the current work based dilemma created by COVID 19 and should be a common goal for individuals, organizations and society. Research also has shifted to focus on the routines of workers, organizational performance and well being of companies and their employees along with reflections on the ways in which these developments may influence and alter the nature of paid work into the post COVID 19 era. The Handbook of Research on Remote Work and Worker Well Being in the Post COVID 19 Era focuses on the rapid expansion of remote working in response to the global COVID 19 pandemic and the impacts it has had on both employees and businesses. The content of the book progresses understanding and raises awareness of the benefits and challenges faced by large scale movements to remote working considering the wide array of different ways in which the large scale movement to remote working is impacting working lives and the economy. This book covers how different fields of work are responding and implementing remote work along with providing a presentation of how work occurs in digital spaces and the impacts on different topics such as gender dynamics and virtual togetherness. It is an ideal reference book for HR professionals, business managers, executives, entrepreneurs, policymakers, researchers, students, practitioners, academicians and business professionals interested in the latest research on remote working and its impacts.

Multidisciplinary Approach to Diversity and Inclusion in the COVID-19-Era Workplace Hynes, Rilla, Aquino, Carlos Tasso, Hauer, Josephine, 2022-02-25 Empathy, diversity, inclusion and soft skills are key building blocks of an innovative workforce challenged to respond to the ever growing needs of the COVID 19 era. Organizations that value diversity and inclusion are looking for ways to manage the shift of workers and skills from traditional manufacturing to the 21st century vision by incorporating new technology and tools. In this new model a diverse workforce is necessary as creativity and innovation grow from the skills that differentiate humans. Further research into the next steps for using diversity and inclusion in an efficient manner, discovering and training new skill sets and building sustainability into the creative process is needed to fully embrace this new era of inclusion. Multidisciplinary Approach to Diversity and Inclusion in the COVID 19 Era Workplace highlights best practices of successful companies in the new normal conditions caused by the pandemic and provides innovative research on diversity and inclusion to help organizations navigate the changing competitive global environment. Covering a range of topics such as remote work unconscious bias and information literacy it is ideal for professors researchers academicians practitioners human resource professionals industry professionals and students

Resources in Education ,1996-04 Flexible Lives Stefanie Reissner, Michal Izak, 2025-08-07 This geographically and methodologically diverse volume shines the spotlight on a variety of flexible working practices beyond the predominantly Western perspective and zooms in on the gendered aspects of flexible working The increasing use of flexible work arrangements has decoupled work from time and space making the world of work and home increasingly fluid and challenging to manage The Covid 19 pandemic in particular has been a catalyst for questioning accepted norms of where when and how work takes place This book seeks to explore the impact which this reshaping of traditional modes of working has had on workplace interactions and relationships as well as on managing the boundaries between familial and working lives In this way this collection contributes to a wider dialogue concerning the flexibility challenges encountered by white collar workers which is needed now more than ever This book will be relevant to scholars practitioners and policymakers in the fields of gender studies organizational behavior human resources and labor economics It will be particularly useful for those examining the impact of remote work the future of work organizational culture and the social and economic implications of shifting work practices The chapters in this book were originally published in Culture and Organization and are accompanied by an updated Introduction and a new Epilogue

Workforce shortage in a digital era. Can 100% remote work attract more qualified candidates? Huong Hoang Thien, 2023-05-25 Master s Thesis from the year 2023 in the subject Leadership and Human Resources Recruiting grade 1 0 language English abstract What will happen if there aren t enough talents to fill the market in the future due to the demographical change This study focuses on the potential of offering 100% remote work to counteract the workforce shortage in Germany An empirical study has been conducted as an online survey to gain an overview of Germany's 100% remote job market In a fast changing world digital transformation has become an evitable process for companies to adapt to new technologies and market trends The digital transformation in Germany has been significantly impacted by the COVID 19 pandemic positively and negatively On the one hand the pandemic forced German companies to embrace new technology more quickly and adapt to remote work However on the other hand it pointed out Germany's weaknesses in digital infrastructures and cybersecurity Additionally many German companies face a shortage of workers due to digital transformation Another reason that causes workforce shortage is demographical change Companies cannot operate their business correctly increase revenue or drive innovations to survive in a competitive market without suitable candidates Furthermore the digital revolution shaped the current digital generations as potential workers exhibit different digital behaviors and preferences Therefore companies must know them and their work preferences to fill the workforce shortage gap Remote working as a sub trend of the mega trend New Work has become the new standard for workers especially since the pandemic However there aren't any specific regulations regarding remote work in Germany yet In general remote work provides workers e.g. more freedom and a better work life balance Nevertheless remote work also has the downside such as workers experiencing isolation and loneliness due to the lack of social contact with co-workers less productivity outside of the office etc For companies offering remote work gives them complete access to the talent pools including freelancers as external workers reducing costs due to fewer offices being more attractive to job seekers But on the other side remote leadership has become a big challenge for leaders Furthermore companies have to deal more with cyber security When everything's going remotely companies have become an easier target of cyber attacks
