Chapter 3 Systems Thinking University Of Pretoria:

From Technology Transfer to Intercultural Development S. Strijbos, Jan van der Stoep, 2012-02-01 The idea for this book has been born in a dialogue between the authors of In Search of an Integrative Vision for Technology 2006 and a group of scholars and practitioners from South Africa whose research and development activities focuses on problems of traditional African society and culture Although there existed awareness in the writing of the earlier book that the search for normativity for our technological society should encompass the different cultural spheres of the world no attention has been paid to the problem of interculturality Focussing on the development of technology in the developed societies the emphasis was laid on finding a basis for interdisciplinarity bridging the gaps between the sciences and humanities as well as between theory and practice According to the vision that has been elaborated on in the above book not the autonomous dynamics of technology as a free flying projectile should determine the future of our global world but guidance has to be provided by a normative perspective on technology for the common good of all people and cultures Following further this line of research the current book aims to address explicitly the intercultural dimension of technology in our globalising world

Affirmative Intervention to Support Multispecies Relationships Janet J. McIntyre-Mills, 2024-11-29 This book offers a pioneering approach to collaborative co authorship integrating storytelling participatory action research and innovative uses of technology like Zoom to bridge geographical and cultural divides The authors emphasize authentic dialogue using a form of metalogue to ensure all voices are heard and respected thus avoiding ventriloquy speaking for or over others Their praxis revolves around performative and regenerative projects involving indigenous custodians academics students and community members aiming to address Species Apartheid and promote a more inclusive and sustainable future The book s engagement model includes inner work focusing on critical analysis and analytical meditation on values and their consequences outer work involving transformative education and organic food production workshops to engage a broad community of practice and future work exploring narrative and if then scenarios to envision new possibilities with an emphasis on creativity and courage The authors draw inspiration from diverse sources including Indigenous knowledge systems and various academic institutes and organizations Through their collaborative efforts they aim to create a more inclusive sustainable and just world

Media in Education António Moreira, Otto Benavides, Antonio Jose Mendes, 2014-07-08 With the aim of discussing old and new teaching technologies based on research and on the strategies and praxis of the use of technologies and methodologies in the different teaching levels and also embracing the contribution and active participation of researchers teachers creators managers and other specialists the work will provide inputs on the following topics Students perspectives on media in the classroom Students and media as content and as tools for learning Educational Media Design Institutional Impact of the integration of Educational Media Old v New Media what really matters Research and Evaluation Personal and or social learning environments networks Media and inclusion Media and informal

Success Story Jackie Phahlamohlaka, 2008 The Politics of Official Discourse in Twentieth-century South Africa Adam

Ashforth,1990 This study uses a close reading of a series of major commission reports into the Native Question to examine the formation and reproduction of state power in South Africa Analyzing the framework governing authoritative ways of speaking of for and to Blacks once called Natives Ashforth demonstrates how officially approved forms of knowledge of Native Life substitute for political representation by Africans and continually serve to justify repression He examines the terms used by those who acting in the name of the state strive to represent apartheid as necessary practical and just Tracing the history of official discourse on the political status of African labor the work illuminates the central contradictions in the politics of this repressive and exploitative regime

The Impact of Knowledge Systems on Human Development in Arica ,2007 Augmentative and Alternative Communication and Severe Disabilities Erna Alant,Lyle

Lloyd,2005-11-29 Communities and countries who are not affluent or economically and socially disadvantaged present their own set of intervention circumstances that need to be taken into account when planning intervention for people with disabilities particularly those with AAC need These contexts provide not only professionals but all partners involved in the intervention process with unique challenges that require a reevaluation of AAC intervention programmes This book presents a different perspective on AAC intervention by focusing on the application of various AAC related issues within a poverty context It is intended for advanced students and professionals across disciplines that are interested in extending their knowledge and critical thinking to advance issues surrounding AAC intervention within a poverty context
