Forests People and Power Piers Blaikie, 2013 With tens of millions of hectares and hundreds of millions of lives in the balance the debate over who should control South Asia's forests is of tremendous political significance This book provides an insightful and thorough assessment of important forest management transitions currently underway MARK POFFENBERGER EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF COMMUNITY FORESTRY INTERNATIONAL The contributions in this volume not only breathe life into the field of writing and analysis related to forests they do so on the strength of extraordinarily insightful research Kudos to Springate Baginski and Blaikie for providing us with a set of thoroughly researched provocative studies that should be required reading not only for those interested in community forestry in south Asia but in resource governance anywhere ARUN AGRAWAL ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF NATURAL RESOURCES it challenges our assumptions of the benefits of participatory forest management and the role of forestry in poverty reduction It should be of interest to policy makers and to all those who have been involved with the struggle of transforming forestry over the decades DR MARY HOBLEY HOBLEY SHIELDS ASSOCIATES NATURAL RESOURCE MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING CONSULTANCY A rare combination of extensive field study social science insights and policy studies will be of immense value DR N C SAXENA MEMBER OF NATIONAL ADVISORY COUNCIL GOVERNMENT OF INDIA In recent decades participatory approaches to forest management have been introduced around the world This book assesses their implementation in the highly politicized environments of India and Nepal The authors critically examine the policy implementation processes and causal factors affecting livelihood impacts Considering narratives and field practice with data from over 60 study villages and over 1000 household interviews the book demonstrates why particular field outcomes have occurred and why policy reform often proves so difficult Research findings on which the book is based are already influencing policy in India and Nepal and the research and analysis have great relevance to forestry management in a wide range of countries Published with DFID

Non-Violence and Ecological Imperatives Ramin Jahanbegloo, Pooja Sharma, 2025-08-05 Violence impregnates human life in many ways We do violence to individuals or groups We do violence to plants and animals We do violence to the planet Earth However Nature will not survive our arrogance and patterns of exploiting and destroying the biosphere if we do not break the cycle of violence As such any moral effort to stop barbaric consumerism and chaotic nihilism is simultaneously the possibility of making life and biodiversity flourish on Earth The moral imperative is thus also an ecological imperative Therefore the question is how can we talk about non violence in the current ecological crisis Put differently we can also ask how can non violence be brought to our ecological concerns Martin Luther King Jr once said Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere The notion of injustice becomes all the more crucial when applied to excluding animals and plants from the history of our planet This eco moral crisis must become more public as the ecological trajectory of the Earth foreshadows a very troublesome future Non violence and Ecological Imperative is a contribution to the relevance and potential of the philosophy of non violence in showing clearly that our viable ecological future depends on attitudes and strategies that are rooted in the Gandhian moment of civilising humanity as an antidote to the violent modern techno industrial way of life The interdependence and cooperation between humans and nature are inevitable Non exploitative and non violent prerequisites of Gandhian ideology entail that interdependence and cooperation must be based on altruistic values and not on self interest and materialistic values This signifies immeasurable love not only among humans but also with nature Thus absolute love substitutes greed Non possession from an absolute love revolutionises the socio ecological paradigm of human civilisation Various ecological scientists and economists have asserted the need for revisiting the harmony between human activities and nature Stern et al 1998 concluded that economic growth would never result in improvement in environmental quality Arrow et al 1995 concluded that economic growth is not a panacea for environmental quality Meadows et al 1972 in his book The Limits to Growth claimed that environmental limits would cause the collapse of the world economic system Against this backdrop Gandhi advocated the process of recycling and minimising waste so that humans adopt a lifestyle that integrates with the ecosystem Humans must dwell in a life that converges with the law of nature and maintains ecological harmony This notion of continuity of life is inspired by the Gandhian philosophy of non violence and absolute love The moment there is a break in continuity it results in violence leading to unrest or conflict dismantling the process of continuity

Gender, Democracy and Institutional Development in Africa Njoki Nathani Wane, 2019-04-25 This book analyses African foundations of gender education politics democracy and institutional development by stimulating theoretical discourses It offers a discursive framework on ways to examine the conceptualizations of African social development and a critical discourse on debunking the misconceptions that are attached to African location in the global arena The volume challenges the danger of minimizing and oversimplifying the role of Africa in the international space This will be ideal for researchers students and scholars in the areas of African and gender studies development politics and education Ethnic Minorities in the Inner City Crispin P.
