Focus: Figurative Language

Exercises

In order to understand a piece of literature, readers will often use figurative language, or figures of speech. One type of a figure of speech is an idiom that conveys an idea that cannot be expressed from the literal meaning, giving the word a metaphor, simile, or a comparative description. There are many figures of speech and figures of speech idioms, such as metaphors, similes, comparisons, and idioms. The purpose of this exercise is to help students understand the meaning of figures of speech.

- Metaphor is a figure of speech that compares two different things.
- Simile is a comparison of subjects using "like" or "as".
- Comparative is a figure of speech that compares two different things.

Exercise: Read each of the paragraphs from Chapter Page. Identify which figure of speech is being used. Write a sentence that explains the figure of speech. Use examples from the text to show what you mean.

Ex. "I found some more like a great book in the middle of the night."
