

INTEXT QUESTIONS: Page 100

1. An object has moved through a distance. Can it have zero displacement?
If yes, support your answer with an example.

Answer.

Yes, an object can have zero displacement even when it has moved through a distance. This happens when final position coincides with the initial position. For example, in going from home to school and coming back to home, some distance is travelled but displacement is zero.

2. A farmer moves around the boundary of a square field of side 10m in 40s. What will be the magnitude of displacement of the farmer at the end of 2minutes 20 seconds?

Answer.

ABCD is a square field of side 10m.

Time for one round = 40s

Total time = 2min 20 sec = 140 seconds

Number of rounds completed =  $140/40 = 3.5$

If the farmer starts from A, he will complete 3 rounds at A. In last 0.5 round starting from A, he will finish at C. Displacement = AC

$$AC = \sqrt{AB^2 + BC^2}$$

$$= \sqrt{10^2 + 10^2} = 10\sqrt{2} \text{ m}$$

3. What is true for displacement?

- It cannot be zero.
- Its magnitude is greater than the distance travelled by the object.

Answer.

a) Displacement can be zero. This statement is not true.

b) Magnitude of displacement is never greater than the distance travelled by the object. This statement is not true.
